WASHINGTON.

The Tenure-of-Office Bill Again Before the Senate.

Increased Anxiety of Office-Seekers Regarding Its Repeal.

No Appointments to New-York Offices Yet Made.

Exciting Discussion Between Generals Butler and Schenck.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 17.

The Senate to-day resumed the consideration of the Tenure-of-Office act. The interest on the floor, and in the galleries, which marked the debate of yesterday appeared, if possible, intensified. As the result of the wordy strife, it may be stated that the feeling in favor of suspension has grown weaker, and the question would appear to be again narrowed down to total repeal or preservation of the law on the tsatute books. Mr. MORTON was to-day reinforced by Senator SHERMAN and Mr. COLE, but no new arguments in favor of the total repeal view of the case were advanced. Mr. EDMUNDS, who must be regarded as the leader of the suspension party, had his side of the question strengthened by the accession of Mr. CARPENTER, whose eloquence, if not arguments, won for him to-day a front place in the Senate. Mr. EDMUNDS opened the debate, concluding his unfinished speech of yesterday. He presented the subject in every possible aspect, and surpassed his effort of yesterday. The force and cogency of his arguments was acknowledged and evidenced not by the breathless attention with which the crowded galleries hung on his words, for they can be caught by the merest clap-trap, but by the unflagging interest with which such men as SUMNER, and FESSENDEN, and GRIMES, and CONKLING, and MORTON, and SCHURZ, and TRUMBULL followed the current of his speech, which was a declaration that he would vote for suspension. Mr. THAYER offered an amendment to the amendment repealing the law in toto, and providing that the President shall within ten days from the beginning of each session send to the Senate a list of all the appointments made during the recess. This new compromise did not excite any particular attention. Mr. SHERMAN next obtained the floor. "Suspension," said he, "would be an acknowledgment that the law was wrong." He would vote for the total repeal. Mr. COLE followed, and then came what was regarded as the speech of the day from Mr. CARPENTER. It was his maiden effort. The galleries showed a strong disposition to go, but the music of his voice, for the first time heard in the Senate, and the elegant phraseology of his first sentence, sustained throughout, charmed them into remaining, and they were well rewarded for the loss of whatever other attraction or pleasure may have awaited them. He argued closely and logically in favor of the law, but he would vote for suspension. As a piece of oratory his speech will compare favorably with anything that has been delivered in the Senate for some time. It was elevated in character, rich in simile and metaphor, and not unenlivened by anecdote. But the opinion pronounced upon it by jurists is not very favorable. It contained too much special pleading, and was a little too ingenious. However, it obtained warm recognition, and the good impresison made by Mr. CARPENTER to-day will not soon be effaced. The old Senators gathered around him at its close, and congratulations came from SUMNER and other fathers of the Senate. MORTON closed the debate. He was unusually earnest, and in a sharp review of the arguments of his opponents, stormed their works and drove them from their positions by the point, delivered with impassioned gesture, and enunciated in sinewy English that, while denying the constitutional right of the President to the removing power, they were willing to concede it to him for eight months by a suspension of the statute. He intimated, but whether by authority or not he did not say, that the policy of the Administration would be to retain in office those who had been confirmed by the Senate, unless the law was repealed, a policy which, if persevered in, would, he thought, eventuate in injury to the Republican Party. This closed the debate to-day. A motion to go into Executive session prevailed and the subject comes up again to-morrow.

The parliamentary status of the bill and the amendments thereto is as follows: The Judiciary Committee reported back the House bill repealing the law with an amendment striking out the word "repealed," and inserting "shall be suspended;" and this was with the evident intention of preventing a direct vote from being taken on the question of repeal. But yesterday Senator THAYER offered an amendment to the amendment, to strike out the words "shall be suspended" and insert "is hereby declared inoperative and void." The question must therefore be taken virtually on the subject of the repeal first, which will insure it the vote of the Democratic Senators, who will not vote for any suspension. If Senator THAYER's motion does not prevail, then another amendment will be offered, to suspend the law until the 4th of March, 1873, thus covering the entire period of President GRANT's Administration. Should this fail, the motion will then recur on the question of suspension until next session, provided no other amendment is offered. The amendment to declare the law inoperative and void also provides that all appointments made during the recess of the Senate are to be sent in during the first ten days of the next ensuing session. This proposition President GRANT fully approves, and says it should, in any event, be made part of the law governing appointments during recess.

PASSAGE-AT-ARMS IN THE HOUSE.

There was a very sharp passage in the House to-day between General SCHENCK and General BUTLER on a little bill reported by Mr. DAWES, from the Committee on Appropriations, to supply the omission in the enrollment of the Legislative Appropriation bill of the paragraph providing for the payment of inspectors by the distillers, instead of by the Government. General BUTLER charged that the enrolling clerks had left it out in the interest of the whisky ring, to which General SCHENCK responded hotly, and matters looked decidedly warm for a few moments. The discussion drew in Mr. HOLMAN in defence of the Enrolled Bills Committee of the last House, who seemed very anxious for somebody to just give him provocation for a free fight, which, however, was avoided, and the matter ended with an implied request for an investigation on the part of General SCHENCK, and an implied threat on the part of General BUTLER that he should have it. Fancy the harmony that would have existed in the Ways and Means had BUTLER remained at SCHENCK's elbow, where he was first placed!

THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

Secretary FISH took charge of the State Department at noon to-day, relieving Secretary WASHBURNE, who had been in attendance from an early hour, settling up some official matters and receiving visitors. The new Secretary held a short conference with Assistant Secretary HUNTER relative to the affairs of the Department, and then gave audience to a large number of persons who had assembled to pay their respects to him; but he received no one whose business was solely in quest of office. It may be noted that the last official act of Mr. WASHBURNE was to countersign the commission of Mr. FISH as Secretary of State, and the first official act of Mr. FISH as Secretary of State was to countersign the commission of Mr. WASHBURNE as Minister to France.

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Secretary BOUTWELL, on Monday, nominated Hon. W. A. RICHARDSON, of Boston, to be additional Secretary of the Treasury, to fill the vacancy which has existed for nearly a year. He was to-day notified by Mr. RICHARDSON that he accepted the position, and would shortly be here to assume the duties. Mr. RICHARDSON is a prominent member of the Massachusetts Bar, was one of the Commissioners for codifying the statutes of the State, and has been for some years one of the Probate Judges. The resignation of Mr. S. M. CLARK as Disbursing Clerk of the Construction Bureau of the Treasury Department, which was requested and accepted by Secretary BOUTWELL, is understood to close his official connection with the department, he having retired from the management of the currency printing division some time ago.

Mr. GEORGE B. MCCARTEE, of New-York, who has been for some time Acting Superintendent of of the Printing Bureau of the Treasury Department, has been regularly appointed to the place by Secretary BOUTWELL, and a Mr. RICE has been appointed to his former position as Superintendent of the Treasury Building.

THE NEW-YORK APPOINTMENTS.

As to the New-York appointments, about which there is so much anxiety, curiosity and ignorance, nothing can be positively stated, except that they have not yet been made, and probably are not agreed upon. A very general impression prevails that the President has determined in his own mind to appoint MOSES H. GRINNELL, Esq., Collector, and the belief gathers strength to-day that Postmaster KELLY will not be disturbed. Some changes are likely to be made very soon in some of the more important internal revenue offices in New-York City, and they will be of a character to largely increase the efficiency of the service. Brevet Brigadier-General JOSEPH C. JACKSON, now a Wall-street lawyer, who served with distinction through the war, is the latest name mentioned for District-Attorney.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The President sent in a few nominations to-day, the most important of which are HENRY D. MOORE to be Collector of Customs at Philadelphia, and Miss VAN LEW to be Postmistress at Richmond. A dozen other Post Offices were included, all to fill vacancies. The vacancy in the Philadelphia Custom-house was caused by the resignation of Mr. MARKS, who was confirmed on the last day of the last session, and whose commission was only issued last week by President GRANT.

THE PUBLIC PRINTER.

Dispatches from this city to one or two New-York papers, purporting to account for the defeat of Mr. DEFREES for the position of Public Printer in the Senate caucus, do Mr. MORTON injustice and misrepresent his position. Mr. FENTON supported Mr. CLAPP for the reason that he was from his State, and he believed him to be a man qualified for the office. Mr. MORTON did not support Mr. DEFREES it is true, but he was not instrumental in forming any combination against him. The story of Mr. MORTON's unpleasant relations with Vice-President COLFAX is also pronounced incorrect.

THE PUBLIC CREDIT BILL.

The Public Credit bill was the first measure of this Congress, which received the signatures yesterday of Vice-President COLFAX and Speaker BLAINE. It has not, however, been presented to the President up to this evening. He will sign it promptly whenever it makes its appearance.

POST OFFICE BILLS.

There are only one or two bills before the Senate Committee on Post Offices, the principal one being the bill in reference to the New-York and Western and Chinese Telegraph Company.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT FOR GEORGIA.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported a bill providing for a Provisional Government for the State of Georgia. It is substantially the old bill introduced by Mr. EDMUNDS at the last session of Congress, and the Committee offer no recommendation one way or the other.

COMMOTION AMONG ARMY OFFICERS.

There is a great commotion among the officers of the army by the recent consolidation orders, which are being carried out with rapidity and unyielding fidelity. Applications for leave of absence or delay are only granted, if at all, with the announcement that such officers go on the list of officers awaiting orders, and that others will be assigned to their places in their regiments. This has the effect of reducing the number of applications very materially.

A POSITION ABOLISHED.

The office of Assistant Secretary of the Navy was abolished by a clause in the Naval Appropriation bill, which passed before adjournment. A knowledge of this fact may be of interest to office seekers, and spare Secretary BORIE unnecessary trouble.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 17.

RENEWED PRESSURE OF OFFICE-SEEKERS.

The hotels are crowded with office-seekers, and the arrival of every railroad train increases the number. The public departments and lobbies of the Capitol are alive with them, and members of Congress are continually called from their seats by those seeking positions of some character. Both Senators and Representatives are overwhelmed with letters from all parts of the country on the same business, and it is impossible to give prompt responses. Additional efforts are being made to secure the appointment of EBENEZER D. BASSETT, colored, Principal of a school in Philadelphia, as Minister to Hayti. He is indorsed by the National Committee of colored men, FRED. DOUGLASS, DOWNING, LANGSTON, and many others, white and black.

VISITORS TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

Between 3 and 4 this afternoon a very large number of visitors called on President GRANT. Several delegations were present, but nothing of unusual character occurred. Among the visitors was the House Committee on Military Affairs, headed by the Chairman, General LOGAN, who called to be introduced to the President. The usual order about visitors was observed, those received being mainly Senators and Representatives, who were present in large force.

PRESENTATION OF THE ARGENTINE MINISTER.

On Tuesday Don MANUEL R. GARCIA was introduced to the President by the Secretary of State as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Argentine Republic. He made the following remarks on the occasion:

Mr. PRESIDENT: I have the distinguished honor of placing in your hands the credentials which accredit me as the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Argentine Republic in the United States. I beg to assure you, in the name of my Government, of the esteem and admiration which it, as well as my whole country, feel toward the great American Republic, and of the lively desire which animates it to have drawn closer and closer the relations of friendship and commerce which unite both nations on the basis of republican institutions, of which we have taken yours as a model. I flatter myself with the hope that during my stay in the United States I shall be so fortunate as to merit your good-will and confidence, in order to enable me to duly fill the honorable charge which the Argentine Government has intrusted to me, and that I may fill up the measure of any personal deficiency by the samed valued consideration which was so freely accorded in this country to my distinguished predecessor.

To which the President replied as follows:

Mr. GARCIA: I welcome you as the diplomatic representative of the Argentine Republic in this country. It shall be my endeavor, during your mission, to reciprocate the kind sentiments which you express on behalf of your Government, and its desire to strengthen those relations of friendship and commerce which now unite both nations. I notice that your letter of credence is signed by your predecessor, now the Chief Magistrate of the Argentine Republic. The personal and official character which he maintained while here warrants the assumption that in selecting you as the Minister of that Republic, he was actuated by his usual discretion, and had no reason to apprehend that your career would not justify his choice. A similar confidence is entertained by me.

THE HUDSON BAY CLAIMS.

The Joint Commission of the British and American Governments to settle the Hudson Bay and Puget Sound difficulties, will meet in New-York to-morrow. Present for the British Government, Hon. JOHN ROSE; for the United States, Hon. ALEXANDER S. JOHNSON. Hon. B. R. CURTIS, umpire. Counsel for the United States, CALEB CUSHING; for the British Government, Hon. CHARLES D. DAY, of Canada. Counsel will be heard orally to-morrow on the testimony and briefs already submitted. The united amount of the claims of the two companies is $6,000,000. The treaty of 1856, negotiated by Ex-President BUCHANAN and Lord PACKENHAM, stipulated for the protection of the rights of those companies during the continuance of the license granted by the British Government. It is now sought to found upon that license a claim to the fee of the territory so occupied, which the United States resists.

MAJOR-GENERAL SCHOFIELD.

General SCHOFIELD leaves for his new command to-morrow. He will be accompanied from here by Colonel WHERRY, Captain ENNIS, and Lieutenant RATHBONE, of his staff, who have been on duty in the War Department. Colonel CAMPBELL remains at the Department.

THE PRESIDENT'S FAMILY.

The President and family will commence their occupancy of the Executive Mansion to-morrow. The house has been in part renovated.

APPOINTMENT BY THE PRESIDENT.

The following nominations of Postmasters were sent in, namely:

ELIZABETH VAN LEW, of Richmond, Va., in acknowledgment of important service to the Union army during the rebellion, vice ALEXANDER SHARPE, resigned, and since confirmed as Marshal for the District of Columbia; ELIZA F EVANS, at Ravenna, Ohio; EMILY J. C. BUSHNELL, at Stirling, Ill.; GEORGE L. MATHEWS, at Dubuque, Iowa; C. E. CARR, at Galesburg, Ill.; WILLIAM A. CLARK, at Van Wert, Ohio; AMAZIAH BALLOU, at Hancock, Ohio; H. W. FARNSWORT, at Topeka, Kansas; ENOCH B. PENDLETON, at Westerly, R. I.; RUFUS H. MELLEN, at Amboy, Ill.; WARREN W. HUNTINGTON, at Galena, Ill.; RICHARD J. TOMPKINS, at Mount Carroll, Ill. Six or seven of the above are reappointments.

The President also nominated JOSEPH P. SMITH Assessor of Internal Revenue for the Twenty-first District of Pennsylvania, vice FROST, deceased; ISRAEL WASHBURNE, Jr., Collector of Customs for Portland, Me.; C. C. P. CLARKE, Collector of Customs of Oswego, N. Y., vice VANDYKE, whose commission expired Jan. 16, 1869; HENRY D. MOORE, Collector of Customs at Philadelphia, in place of MARKS, resigned.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

A naval general order, issued to-day, calls the attention of officers to the regulations of the navy forbidding applications for duty through persons of influence. All such applications are ordered to be made direct to the Secretary of the Navy, who is supposed to be the best judge of what duty an officer is entitled to, and if made in any other way such application will not be attended to. The Secretary says:

"It is very apparent that an officer who can obtain service through influential friends must have a great advantage over all others, and the least deserving may get the most important duties. Duty will be assigned according to the requirements of the navy, and officers will be assigned to service who are well known to be the most competent to perform it."

George H. Barry, First Assistant Engineer in the Navy, has resigned.

Paymaster Frank C. Cosby has been detached from special duty at Honolulu and ordered to the receiving ship Independence.

Passed Assistant Paymaster G. Harris is relieved from duty at New-Orleans, La., and ordered to settle accounts. Lieutenant Dewitt C. Kells has been detached from League Island and ordered to duty at New-Orleans. Master William Buck has been detached from New-Orleans and ordered to League Island. The order of Paymaster Hassler to the receiving ship Independence is revoked.

The officers of the navy have been directed by a general order just issued from the Navy Department to inform the Secretary of the Navy of their actual places of residence. The object is to ascertain where they live, so they may be assigned to duty at points nearest their places of residence, not only as a convenience to themselves, but also to save the Government their traveling expenses when ordered to distant points instead of those near home.

By direction of the Secretary of the Navy the sea service of officers hereafter will be for a period of three years, counting from the day they receive their order until they are detached on the return of their vessel to the United States. Officers who have been three years at sea, will on their return be allowed three years at a shore station; and to make it fair for all, officers will have to take their turns at the different stations. Those officers now on the Mediterranean station will not be ordered there again until they have performed duty on the Coast of Brazil, China, Pacific and Home Squadrons, which will be the tour of duty.

THE SUPREME COURT.

In the United States Supreme Court to-day the follow cause were considered:

No. 107.—John Maguire, plaintiff in error, vs. Mary L. Tyler et al. The argument of this cause was concluded by S. T. Glover, of counsel for the plaintiff in error.

No. 105.—B. L. Ridley, plaintiff in error, vs. Freeman Sherbrook. The argument of this cause was continued by Hon. Horace Maynard, of counsel for defendant in error, and by Hon. R. L. Caruthers, of counsel for the plaintiff in error.

THE HOLLAND INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

The following circular was sent to the Governors of the principal manufacturing States by the Secretary of State on the 9th inst.:

Supposing that some of the citizens of the State of ——— may be interested in the proposed exhibition of articles for daily household use, to be held at Utrecht, in Holland, in the months of August and September, 1869, I have the honor to inclose a translation of a note of the 27th ult., which Mr. MAZEL, the Netherlands Minister, has addressed to this Department, together with the regulations which accompanied it. Mr. MAZEL has been informed that while it was deemed inexpedient for this Government to assume any agency in the matter, the Department would take pleasure in communicating to the Governors of the States such information in regard to the proposed exhibition as would enable citizens thereof who may be desirous of taking part in it to do so. I have the honor to be your Excellency's obedient servant, E. B. WASHBURNE.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

SENATE....WASHINGTON, March 17.

Mr. SUMNER presented a memorial of citizens of Texas setting forth the frightful condition of affairs in that State, which they attribute to "Johnson's policy," protesting against the organization of a State Government at present, and suggesting as a remedy that the State be divided into two or three parts and placed under territorial or military Government. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

THE FOURTEENTH AMENDMENT.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported with an amendment, but without recommending any action upon it, the bill to enforce the Fourteenth Constitutional Amendment in the State of Georgia, the Committee having been unable to agree upon any recommendation, although they had agreed upon the amendment, which is as follows:

Whereas, The Legislature in the State of Georgia, elected under its new Constitution preparatory to the restoration of that State to its proper place in the Union, and to the admission of Senators and Representatives to Congress therefrom, have, in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, refused to purge itself of members who by said Amendment were prohibited from being such members, and from acting as such, and has permitted and continues to permit such members to act as such; and

Whereas, A majority of the persons in fact composing said Legislature has, in violation of said Constitution and the said Constitution of Georgia, and in violation of the fundamental principles upon which Congress consented to the restoration aforesaid, expelled from said Legislature a large number of its legally qualified members, upon the sole ground that they were persons of African blood, and admitted thereto other persons not receiving a majority of votes of the people, in their places; and

Whereas, It appears that the local authorities in said State are wholly unable or unwilling to protect the lives, liberties and property of lawful and unoffending citizens of said State from lawless violence, and refraining purposely or from want of power from bringing such offenders to justice, whereby it appears that the people of the State of Georgia have not complied with the terms or conformed to the principles upon which its restoration was provided for, and that the Government thereof is not in fact republican or regular;

Therefore, &c., be it enacted, That so much of the act passed June 25, 1868, as relates to the State of Georgia be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That the military Government of the State of Georgia heretofore provided for by law, be and the same is hereby revived, subject to the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. That the Government organized under the said new Constitution of Georgia shall continue in operation during the pleasure of Congress as provisional only, and the expulsion of the members of said Legislature heretofore had on the ground that they were of African descent, is hereby declared null and void, and they shall be restored to their seats, and such persons as may have been admitted thereto in their place shall vacate the same, and no person shall be permitted to hold a seat in said Legislature or any office under said Provisional Government who is disqualified by the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

SEC. 4. That it shall be the duty of the President to cause to be stationed in said State such part of the land and naval forces as shall be sufficient to carry this act into full execution, and all officers in command of such forces shall, on the demand of the Acting Governor of said State, render military aid and assistance in the administration of said Government, in the protection of life and property, and in the administration of justice.

CONTESTANTS' CREDENTIALS.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the same Committee, reported back the credentials of JOSHUA HILL and H. J. M. MILLER, claiming to be Senators-elect from Georgia, with the recommendation that they lie on the table until action should have been taken upon the joint resolution in regard to Georgia. Mr. TRUMBULL said that he made this recommendation by the instruction of the majority of the Committee, his own opinion being that the Senate ought to act upon the credentials of these gentlemen without further delay.

OCEAN MAILS.

Mr. CONKLING introduced a bill to promote the building of steamships in the United States, and to provide for the carriage of the United States mails between New-York and Europe by steamships built in the United States. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. CONKLING's bill directs the Postmaster-General to contract with the New-York and Antwerp Steamship Company.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill relating to the Freedmen's Bureau, which was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

It provides for continuing the educational and collection departments of the Freedmen's Bureau until Jan. 1, 1871.

THE COURT OF CLAIMS.

Mr. RICE introduced a bill providing for a mode of settlement for certain claims, which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

It provides for the appointment of two additional Judges of the Court of Claims, whereupon the Chief Justice of said Court shall designate any three of the Judges to constitute the Chamber of Indian Claims, to adjudicate all claims against the United States of the Cherokee, Creek, Seminole, Choctaw or Chickasaw tribes, growing out of any treaty or stipulation made with them by the Government.

LAND GRANTS.

Mr. SPENCER introduced a bill granting lands in aid of the New-Orleans, Mobile and Chattanooga Railroad, which was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. POMEROY introduced a bill granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the southern boundary of Kansas to the Pacific Ocean at San Diego, with a branch to the southern boundary of the United States, in the direction of El Paso, which was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

It provides for the incorporation of the National Pacific Railroad Company, and in aid of the enterprise grants twenty alternate sections per mile on each side of the line.

Mr. OSBORNE introduced a bill granting lands in Florida to aid in rebuilding the Pensacola and Louisville Railroad. Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

JOINT RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. MORTON introduced the joint resolution, of which he had given notice on Monday, prescribing the manner of proceeding by State Legislatures upon amendments to the Constitution proposed to them for ratification, and on his motion it was laid on the table.

Mr. CHANDLER offered a resolution, which was agreed to, requesting the President to send to the Senate copies of the correspondence between President BUCHANAN and Secretary of State CASS in regard to the policy to be pursued to avert the then impending war of the rebellion.

Mr. WILLIAMS called up the joint resolution in regard to light-houses on the coast of Oregon, which was passed.

CABLE TELEGRAPHS.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the joint resolution to allow the New-York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company to land its submarine cable on the shores of the United States.

Mr. STOCKTON offered an amendment making the provisions of the bill general in their application to other cable telegraph companies.

THE TENURE-OF-OFFICE BILL.

The amendment was discussed until the expiration of the morning hour, which brought up, as unfinished business, the bill to repeal the Tenure-of-Office act.

Mr. EDMUNDS resumed his argument against the bill. He read extracts from the report of the Select Committee of the Senate in 1826 to consider the expediency of limiting the Executive powers, showing that the Committee had come to the conclusion that "the exercise of this unlimited power by the Executive tended to sully the purity of our institutions and endanger the country."

In pursuance of the recommendations of the Committee, six distinct acts had been passed, all intended to limit the power of the Executive; and one of these acts had clearly embodied the principle underlying the Tenure-of-Office act by providing that commissions should no longer be issued to officers of the army and navy with the clause importing that they should continue in office during the pleasure of the President; but should continue in force during good behavior, and that no officer should therefore be dismissed by the President except in pursuance of the sentence of a Court-martial, or an address to the President from the two Houses of Congress. Thus early in the history of the country its leading statesmen had learned and profited by the great lesson of all history—that the liberties of a free nation are always destroyed, if destroyed at all, by the gradual accretion of Executive powers, culminating in despotism. Passing to the history of the Tenure-of-Office act itself, he denied that it had been enacted merely as a check upon President JOHNSON. The Republican Party, when it had a President in whom it had the fullest confidence, (Mr. LINCOLN,) had enacted a similar law, providing that the Comptroller of the Currency should not be removable at the will of the President alone. The fact was, as shown by the Globe, that the Tenure-of-Office act had been introduced and advocated and passed, not merely to check the maladministration of President JOHNSON, but chiefly upon the ground that it introduced an honest and greatly needed reform in the administration of the Government. It was true that the immediate occasion for the enactment was the conduct of President JOHNSON in removing from office men who had deserved well of their country, and replacing them by men whose only merit was that they had shed tears at Philadelphia or embraced at Boston. [Laughter.] But the act was nevertheless based upon a great principle, and intended to continue in force after President JOHNSON should have passed out of office, as well as during his term. Senators who thought that the act had operated to prevent reforms in the public service should remember that it operated as a restriction upon the President only during the recess.

Mr. MORTON asked whether, if it was proper that the President should be restrained from suspending an officer during the recess except for cause, the same principle should not govern him during the session of the Senate; and whether, therefore, the law did not operate upon him, at least morally, all the time?

Mr. EDMUNDS agreed with the Senator from Indiana (MORTON) that the President had no right to propose to the Senate to put one man out of an office and another into it, except for cause; and the effect of this law was merely to put him, during the recess, in the same position in which he stands during the session of the Senate. The statements that the law had embarrassed the President in his attempts to reform the public service was shown to be without foundation, by the fact that since the passage of the law all recesses of the Senate had amounted to only 323 days, while that body had been in session 392 days, giving the President ample opportunity to avoid the embarrassment of making out "causes" for removal in recess by bringing the cases to the attention of the Senate during its sessions.

Mr. THAYER offered a substitute for the pending bill, providing that the act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices, is hereby made and declared to be inoperative and void from and after the passage of this act; provided, however, that the President shall report to the Senate within ten days from the beginning of each session all appointments made by him during the preceding recess of the Senate which require confirmation by the Senate.

Mr. SHERMAN spoke briefly in favor of the repeal of the act. He indicated some of the embarrassments caused to the President by the operation of the Tenure-of-Office act, and was proceeding to speak of others when

Mr. TRUMBULL suggested that it was unnecessary to point out the evils that would arise under the operation of the act, as no one in the Senate seemed to wish to keep it in force.

Mr. SHERMAN—If I understand the Senator from Vermont (EDMUNDS) correctly, he spoke for more than two hours in advocacy of the principles upon which he says the act is based.

Mr. TRUMBULL—Yes, and he has joined in the report of the Committee recommending the suspension of the act.

Mr. CARPENTER said that, owing probably to his inexperience in legislative debate, he was surprised at the course of this discussion. Much had been said about the high character and great services of General GRANT. No one appreciated them more highly than he did; but they had nothing to do with the question before the Senate, which was a dry question of law, namely, where is the power of removal under the Constitution. Mr. CARPENTER then made an argument to show that the President has no constitutional right to remove a public officer, except by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. There were, he said, a few maxims of constitutional law, so elementary and obvious that they were often forgotten. Among these were some which bore directly upon the question under discussion. It should be remembered, first, that the Government of the United States and its several departments and officers, possess no powers not expressly granted, or resulting by necessary implication from the words of some express grant in the Constitution. If the administration of the Government disclosed any deficiency of necessary power in any department of the Government, the remedy was by amending the Constitution. The mere discovery of the defect did not authorize the department to assume the needed power. If the President might usurp powers because they seemed to him necessary, he would soon become the people's master instead of their servant. There were but two provisions of the Constitution applicable to the determination of the extent of the power of the President in appointing to and removing from office. The first was that authorizing the President to appoint Ambassadors and other officers for whose appointment the Constitution itself did not provide. This provision contemplated two things: nomination and appointment. The nomination was to be made by the President alone; the appointment by and with the consent of the Senate. There being no express provision for removal from office, that power was evidently to be regarded as a mere incident of the powers of appointment, it being necessary that a vacancy should exist before it could be filled. Then, since the power of appointment belonged not to the President alone, but to him and the Senate together, the conclusion was inevitable that the other power implied in this power of removal also belonged to the President and Senate, acting together, and not to President alone; and, therefore, that the President could not constitutionally make removals during the recess of the Senate. This view seemed to be strongly sustained by the other provision authorizing the President to fill vacancies that may happen during the recess, and by implication denying that he has the power to create vacancies when the Senate is not in session. In conclusion, Mr. CARPENTER said that it was the duty of the Senate to preserve this law upon the statute book, because, if once repealed, no matter how great the necessity for it might be at any future time, it probably could never be reenacted. He would, however, vote for its suspension, because he thought it required certain modifications which could not be well considered at this short session of Congress, and not at all for the reasons given by other Senators that if the law were left in force it would embarrass the President; because he did not believe that either with the law or without it the President would have any right to make removals during the recess of the Senate.

Mr. MORTON thought all the arguments in favor of the law itself far-fetched, based solely upon technical grounds, and sufficiently answered by the history and practice of the Government for seventy-eight years. The positions of Senators who made long and ingenious arguments to show the constitutionality, wisdom and necessity of the law, and then announced that they were willing to suspend it, reminded him of the well-known gentleman who was strongly in favor of the Maine Liquor law, but utterly opposed to its enforcement. [Laughter.]

At 4 o'clock the Senate, on motion of Mr. DRAKE, went into Executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. WELLS, the Secretary of the Treasury was directed to communicate information as to the present condition of the St. Louis Custom-house.

Several resolutions, extending the time for taking testimony in contested election cases, were reported by Mr. PAINE, Chairman of the Committee on Elections, and were adopted.

INDIAN APPROPRIATIONS.

Mr. DEWEESE, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the Indian Appropriation bill, which was made the special order for to-morrow. The bill appropriates $2,424,000.

GENERAL APPROPRIATIONS.

Mr. DAWES, from the same Committee, reported a joint resolution to supply omissions in the enrollment of some of the General Appropriation bills of last session. One of them requires the owners of bonded warehouses to reimburse to the Government the salaries of storekeepers, &c. Another is for lighting the Capitol and the President's house.

The question being on the passage of the joint resolution,

Mr. BECK argued against the bonded warehouse proposition.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, explained and advocated the proposition which, he said, had been unanimously agreed upon by the Committee of Conference at three o'clock on the morning of the 4th of March, and which was at that hour the law of the land; but it being a matter which took a million and a half of dollars out of the pockets of the whisky dealers, of course, the provision dropped out in the enrollment of the bill. He did not know whom to blame.

Mr. WASHBURN, of Wisconsin, asked Mr. BUTLER whether he meant to charge that it was omitted intentionally.

Mr. BUTLER in reply cited the anecdote of the fool who told the miller that he knew that millers' hogs were always fat, but did not know on whose corn they were fattened. Here was a whole section fairly written out, and yet omitted in the enrollment of the bill.

Mr. WASHBURN, of Wisconsin, remarked that it was a very serious matter. If an enrolling clerk were guilty of that offence it should be known, and he hoped the gentleman from Massachusetts would take means to have it made known.

Mr. BUTLER said he did not know who was responsible for it. He was informed that it was an accident which had happened over and over again in former Congresses. He did not think it proper to discuss the merits of the question now. It had been the law, but either through an accident or a blunder, or something worse, the law had been altered.

Mr. SCHENCK defended the enrolling clerk from any imputation on his integrity, the principal enrolling clerk, whom he knew to be a most worthy officer, and informed him that he and the other clerks had been working for forty consecutive hours and were completely exhausted when the Conference report on this particular appropriation bill was sent to them from which to make up the several items in enrolling it. The report, as presented to them, was confused and difficult to be understood, and hence the clause in question had been overlooked. He (Mr. SCHENCK) had no knowledge of any such item being in the bill, but he undertook to say from his knowledge of the principal enrolling clerk that he was as incapable of having designedly omitted anything proper to be inserted in a bill as any member of the House, no matter who. He protested against all such legislation in appropriation bills, and argued particularly against returning to the system which had been tried and abandoned, of making Inspectors the creatures and tools of distillers.

Mr. BUTLER held up the manuscript of the Conference Committee and called attention to the omitted paragraph, which he said was underscored with heavy black lines. He also commented upon the fact that opposition to the resolution came from the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means; from the gentleman from Kentucky, (Mr. BECK,) who represented one of the largest distilling districts in the United States, and from the Chairman of the Committee on Enrolled Bills, (Mr. HOLMAN,) who had made a point of order on it, and whose duty it was to see that the bill was properly enrolled.

Mr. SCHENCK explained how easily such a mistake might have been made without imputing any improper design, and remarked that so far as he knew of the officers of the House and the members of the Committee on Enrolled Bills, they were, at least, as little likely to attempt to commit a fraud on anybody as the gentleman from Massachusetts. The gentleman might talk about the necessity of imposing more and more taxation on distilled spirits and tobacco, but all he had to say was that Congress had fixed what that taxation was to be. The people should know by the general system of taxation how much tax is charged upon whisky and how much on tobacco, and not have to go to appropriation bills to find out what additional burdens are imposed on those articles.

Mr. HOLMAN replied to the remark of Mr. BUTLER affecting him, and said that the suggestion was entirely unworthy of any gentleman occupying a seat on the floor. It was the first time in his experience that any gentleman had thought proper to couple such a mistake with the presumption, the insinuation that by any possibility it might have been the result of design thus to defeat the will of Congress by corrupt dealing in the enrollment of an act. He did not know by what authority, by what command of position, the gentleman from Massachusetts indulged in such insinuations. The intimation was not only false, but it could only have been suggested by a willingness to perpetrate just such a fraud on the legislation of the country.

Mr. DAWES remarked that the Committee on Appropriations had looked into the matter, and had found no occasion to intimate any lack of integrity on the part of any officer of the House connected with the enrollment of bills.

Mr. KNOTT remarked that the proposition to impose additional burdens on the manufacturers of whisky and tobacco was bad faith on the part of Congress.

Mr. ALLISON believed that the present tax on whisky and tobacco was sufficiently high without the imposition of any additional burden, but still he should vote to make the correction, because both Houses had agreed to the paragraph. It could be repealed if it was deemed right to do so.

Mr. LYNCH moved to amend the paragraph by making it apply only to Internal Revenue bonded warehouses.

Mr. DAWES presumed there would be no objection to that amendment.

Mr. ALLISON said there would be.

Mr. LYNCH explained that the omitted paragraph was intended to apply only to Internal Revenue bonded warehouses, but that its language was broad enough to make it applicable to Custom warehouses.

Mr. MUNGEN argued briefly against the joint resolution.

Mr. COBURN expressed his belief that it was the duty of the House to correct the mistake made in enrolling the bill.

Mr. SCHENCK proposed that when the House was called upon to correct a blunder of a clerk, to correct also a blunder in legislation. Such a provision should not have been put in an Appropriation bill. The reduction of the tax on whisky had worked well, and should not be affected in such way. Last year the tax had produced $13,000,000, but now it was producing at the rate of $50,000,000 a year. The Government, therefore, could well afford to pay its own officers to do its own business. The fact that it was doing so now had probably had much to do with the larger collection of revenue from that source. He protested against this whole system of legislation in appropriation bills about taxes, about offices, about finance, and about anything else.

Mr. BUTLER said that the question was whether an enrolling clerk, by accident or design, should be allowed to change a law, taking millions from the Treasury, and whether, when it comes back to the House for correction, there can be a lobby brought into requisition to prevent such corrections. He did not know that there was such a lobby now, but he knew that there was a very strong pressure in favor of keeping this provision out of the law.

Mr. SCHENCK—Will the gentleman state from what source that pressure comes, and on whom it is directed?

Mr. BUTLER—Every man can see as well as I can see; every man can understand as well as I can understand, and I am not to be diverted from my argument by an attempt to get up a side issue.

Mr. SCHENCK—No side issue at all; the gentleman intimated that there is a lobby here pressing to prevent this paragraph being put back. I want him to reduce this fling of his, if he dare, to the shape of a direct charge against anybody.

Mr. BUTLER—I dare stand up for the Treasury of the United States; the gentleman from Ohio has a high courage to stand up for the whisky ring; the country may judge between us.

Mr. SCHENCK—The gentleman may state that which he knows to be untrue, if he knows anything about it.

Mr. BUTLER—I supposed the result would be that we should get into some such discussion. I understand the gentleman from Ohio thoroughly. I know fully all his ins and outs, and some day he shall have them investigated when he desires it.

Mr. SCHENCK—When you please.

Mr. BUTLER—I shall take care that it shall be done.

Mr. SCHENCK—Just when you please.

Mr. BUTLER—But let us not be diverted from this question. I find that this clerk who dropped out this item in the enrollment of the bill, has been (before the question came up in the House) stating his case to the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, and has found an advocate in him.

Mr. SCHENCK—I never heard of the case before that clerk came to my seat while the gentleman from Massachusetts was making an abusive attack upon him, or somebody, for doing what his own colleague (Mr. DAWES) admits was nothing but an accident.

Mr. BUTLER—I am confined to parliamentary language, and yet I have not received it. I made no abusive attack on anybody. I stated the facts, and I state them again. At 3 o'clock in the morning this provision was in the law, at 5 o'clock it was not in the law. There was a million and a half of dollars a year interested in having it fail, and it did fail. That I say in the face of the country. Gentlemen are exceedingly sensitive; even my usually cold and amiable friend from Indiana (Mr. HOLMAN) gets a little sensitive about it. I do not see any occasion to be sensitive. "Let the galled jade wince, my withers are unwrung." I stated the simple plain facts and I have not a word to retract, nor a word to add to them. Referring to Mr. SCHENCK's statement as to the increase of revenue from whisky, Mr. BUTLER said that whisky had to be withdrawn from bonded warehouses before the 20th of April, and hence the apparent increase; but it was only killing the goose that laid the golden egg. He would meet the gentleman here next December and ask him how much tax had been collected between the 20th of April and the 20th of December next. Time would show whether he was right or the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means was right, and "time at last makes all things even," even bad tempers. [Laughter.] The House should correct this mistake of its Clerk, and then let the Committee of Ways and Means bring in a bill to repeal it if they dare. [Laughter.]

Mr. SCHENCK, at a further stage of the discussion, showed that the revenue received from whisky, in July, August and September last, was $8,465,000, of which only $1,071,898 came from whisky taken out of bonded warehouses.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. BLAIR, FARNSWORTH, WINANS and DAWES. Finally the discussion closed.

Mr. HOLMAN moved to strike out the paragraph about bonded warehouses. Rejected—yeas 49, nays 107.

The question was then taken on Mr. LYNCH's amendment, and it was rejected.

The joint resolution was then passed—yeas 100, nays 43.

MISSOURI LEVEES.

Mr. ROOTS introduced a bill to provide levees and secure the low lands of Arkansas and Missouri from inundation, and to secure the settlement and cultivation thereof. Referred to the Committee on Roads and Canals.

CLERKS TO COMMITTEES.

On the motion of Mr. LOGAN, the Committee on Military Affairs was authorized to employ a clerk for the Forty-first Congress at $6 per day.

Mr. CAKE, from the Committee on Accounts, reported a resolution that pending action of that Committee all resolutions about clerks to committees be referred to it. Adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

On motion of Mr. PAINE, the Senate joint resolution respecting the Provisional Governments in Virginia and Texas, was taken from the Speaker's table and referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

On motion of Mr. SARGENT, the Secretary of the Interior was directed to furnish information as to what steps have been taken to separate the mineral lands from lands granted to corporations for railroad and other purposes.

Mr. BINGHAM, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported the joint resolution to restore to BLANTON DUNCAN, of Kentucky, the real estate taken from him by the Government. After some discussion, Mr. KELSEY, of New-York, moved to lay the joint resolution on the table. Negatived—yeas, 64; nays, 81.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved an amendment providing that Mr. DUNCAN shall release all claims for rent or use of property.

Before disposing of the bill, Mr. KETCHAM presented the resolutions of the Assembly of the State of New-York in favor of the repeal of the Tenure-of-Office law, and the House at 4:30 o'clock adjourned.

EUROPEAN NEWS BY MAIL.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIPS GERMANIA AND CHINA.

The steamship Germania, which left Hamburg March 3 and Havre March 6, and the China, from Liverpool March 6 and Queenstown March 7, reached this port yesterday. The mails thus received contain news later by three days than that at hand by the City of Baltimore. Captain SCHWENSEN, of the Germania, will accept our thanks for late Hamburg and Paris papers.

In the House of Commons, March 4, Sir T. LLOYD, asked the President of the Poor Law Board whether he was prepared to take into consideration the propriety of relaxing the rule now in force by which the Poor Law Board refuses its sanction to grants of money from Boards of Guardians in aid of paupers desirous of emigrating to the United States of America, and limited such sanction only to intending emigrants to our British colonial possessions. Mr. GOSCHEN said this was one of the first matters brought to his attention since he had been at the Board. The reason for the restriction referred to in the question was that in 1838 the Government of the United States had raised objections to pauper emigration. He, (Mr. GOSCHEN,) trusted it would now be possible to remove those restrictions, and thus effect a most desirable object.

On Feb. 28, says the Pall Mall Gazette, one of the "conferences," now so much the fashion in Paris, was held at the Théâtre de l'Ambigu-Comique on "the phenomena of light," a subject one would have thought about as unpolitical as could well have been chosen. The lecturer, in order to demonstrate certain theories, proceeded to enlarge some photographs of celebrated persons. This being done by means of a strong magnesium light, all the theatre, except in the immediate neighborhood of theoperator, was in almost total darkness. The audience could be heard, not seen. The portrait of the Emperor was received with a storm of hisses and cries of "A la porte!" "Vive la République!" "Il s'en ira bientôt!" &c. That of the Empress met with a worse reception, if possible, than her husband's. On the other hand, the portrait of MAXIMILIAN was received with cheers and cries of "Qui l'a trahi?" MAXIMILIAN, as a bystander remarked, probably owed his popularity to the fact of his having been shot. The operator, like a prudent man, soon brought his experiments to an end, and when the gas was turned on the "agents" were very busy looking about, but of course every one looked intensely loyal.

In Berlin, on the evening of March 4, Mr. BANCROFT, the United States Minister, gave a grand dinner to celebrate the inauguration of President GRANT, at which Count BISMARCK and other members of the Cabinet, the diplomatic body, and the high Court functionaries were present. Mr. LAWRENCE, formerly American Minister in England, alluded in terms of praise to the good relations existing between the United States and Germany. Mr. BANCROFT proposed the health of the King, which was followed by Count BISMARCK proposing the health of President GRANT. Count BISMARCK drew attention to the fact that disputes had never arisen between the Government of Prussia and the United States, and that the friendly relations between the two countries appeared to be now especially guaranteed.

PRESIDENT GRANT.

Comments of the British Press upon his Inaugural Address.

From the London Times, March 6.

* * * To the European public the most important part of the proclamation will be that which relates to the debt of the Union. General GRANT'S expressions, coupled with the recent action of the Legislatare on the subject, will have a good effect in maintaining American credit. The President argues that if it be well understood that not a single farthing of the public debt is to be repudiated, the national credit will be so much strengthened as to enable the Union to replace the debt with bonds paying less interest than is now paid. Nothing can be more certain than this; and we can well understand an American looking with jealousy at the easy terms on which a country like England is able to obtain money on occasion—the consequence of honorably bearing immense burdens throughout a long series of years. Happily, the principles of the party of dishonesty have been disowned by the nation, which will find, as all States which have tried it, have found, that there is no resource in time of trial like a reputation for punctual payments. A paragraph which seems to refer to the questions in dispute with England concerning naturalization, and a paragraph in favor of the suffrage amendment, make up what remains of importance in the proclamation. In this last matter the new President takes his stand with the Republican Party and with the most enlightened men in the Union.

In the principles General GRANT enunciates throughout this document, briefly as they are expressed, we see hopes of a beneficial and honorable career. The President has been and remains unpledged in a party sense; he tells us that the office which has been conferred upon him was unsought. What is of still more importance, he is not committed to the employment of any set of men, and remains his own master and the true "Executive" of the country. Here are advantages which few Presidents have possessed, and, if they are well used by General GRANT, his term of office may be the beginning of a new period of prosperity, surpassing even that which came to an end eight years ago amid the flames of civil war.

From the Daily News, March 6.

* * * Such pertinacious efforts have been made on this side to represent American credit as, to say the least, somewhat shaky, and so much has been said by indiscreet orators on their side to give sanction to the suspicion, that the emphatic declaration of the new President is as timely as it is satisfactory. Nor can it be said either that President GRANT "doth protest too much," or that his emphatic declaration of faithfulness to the public credit is superfluous. His argument for common honesty is the very old one, that it is the best policy for nations as for individuals; and though it might have been better that no such argument should be needful at all, it was rendered needful by the proposals to pay the bonds in currency which the Democratic Party and some sections of the Republican Party put forward during the elections. President GRANT's election was, however, the decisive victory of the party of honesty over that of repudiation; and he, therefore, makes it distinctly understood that faithfulness to engagements, and the full discharge of promises to pay, is the fundamental basis on which his Administration rests. On strictly foreign topics the Address is far more reticent. We naturally turn to this part of it to inquire as to the relation in which the new Administration stands to the unsettled questions between the Americans and ourselves. On this point, however, President GRANT gives us but little satisfaction. The sententious wisdom which has scattered political aphorisms over the previous paragraphs, seems to forsake him here. The natualization question, which has been finally and satisfactorily settled, seems to suggest two or three sentences, while the Alabama claims suggest but one, if indeed they are referred to at all. A vague generality about dealing with nations "as equitably as the law requires that individuals should deal with each other," and the hint that if others depart from the rule of respecting all rights they may be compelled to follow the precedent, is all that really bears on foreign affairs. We must, therefore, wait for some further declaration of opinion on the part of the new Administration. It is entirely clear that the new President is a man so intensely representative of the American people—of its strength and weakness, its high principle and its national prejudices—that any course which he takes on foreign questions will be secure of the national approval.

From the Morning Star, March 6.

* * * With regard to foreign policy, General GRANT is very definite in his enunciation of sound principles, but somewhat ambiguous in the sentence which appears to suggest the application of them to our own case. He says he would deal with nations as equitably as the law requires that individuals should deal with each other. This is to lay down a maxim which cannot be too highly commended, and which presents an admirable contrast to the fillibustering doctrines of General PIERCE and President BUCHANAN—who looked upon Mexico, Cuba and Central America as belonging to the Republic by the right of the strong to subdue the weak. "I would respect," he remarks, "the rights of all nations, and demand equal respect for our own. If others depart from this rule in dealing with us, we may be compelled to follow the precedent." This may be fairly interpreted as an allusion to the Alabama imbroglio; but it involves no actual menace, and we must be content to accept the rebuke, if we feel, as we must do, that it is not wholly undeserved. It is certain that the President has not in this address given any countenance to the extraordinary remarks which were recently attributed to him by the quidnunes of the American Press; and all that we know of his character and antecedents justifies the belief that his counsels, now that he is elevated to power, will be those of wisdom and moderation. His programme is an eminently pacific one. The warlike spirit has no place in it. It breathes the purpose of a man who will uphold the greatness of his country by reuniting a divided people, by economizing and wisely employing the national resources, and by cultivating peace abroad, and at home the civic virtues.

From the Morning Post, March 6.

* * * It is unquestionably satisfactory to find that the President, passing from generalities, declares it to be his conviction that the State should pay to the uttermost farthing all its obligations. It will be gratifying to the creditors of the United States to find that the Chief Magistrate and the Congress are as one on this important point. It could scarcely be expected that the President would refer, except in general terms, to the foreign policy which he intends to pursue. To maintain the dignity of the State of which he is the Chief, and to respect that of others, is a very commendable sentiment, and if acted upon will promote that harmony which at present subsists between the American Republic and other Powers. One passage in the proclamation will, however, probably arrest attention: "If others depart from this rule in dealing with us, we may be compelled to follow the precedent." We are unwilling to believe that this can have any reference to the unfortunate dispute which has arisen between the United States and Great Britain in connection with the depredations committed by the Alabama and her sister cruisers, and to convey an intimation that, unless the claims advanced by the American Government are satisfied, American-fitted privateers will, in the event of Great Britain being engaged in a war with any European State, commit acts which would be in the nature of reprisals. The President must be well aware that we have done everything in our power to effect a satisfactory settlement of those claims, and have rather gone beyond the line than otherwise in submitting the bona fides of our conduct to the decision of a mixed tribunal. We may therefore be permitted to hope that ere long the adjustment of this unhappy difference will be effected on the basis of the recent Convention, and that the unkind and, we may add, unjust feeling entertained toward us by some at least of our American kinsmen will totally disappear.

From the Pall Mall Gazette, March 6.

* * The foreign policy indicated in the proclamation is unexceptionable so far as words go. The determination to "protect law-abiding citizens, whether of native or foreign birth, wherever their rights are jeopardized," can lead to no ill-will now that the Naturalization laws are everywhere either revised, or in a fair way to be revised, and, even apart from this consideration, the epithet "law-abiding" seems expressly designed to exclude the Fenian visitors to Ireland. Nor will any one quarrel with General GRANT for his determination to "respect the rights of all nations, and demand equal respect" for those of the United States. If the sentence that follows—"If others depart from this rule in dealing with us, we may be compelled to follow the precedent"—has any occult reference to the Alabama case, Great Britain will have no cause for alarm, provided that the reprisals hinted at are strictly limited to the reproduction of the wrongs from which the United States has really suffered. British merchants will have no right to complain if an enemy's cruiser should hereafter escape from an American port merely through the accidental illness of one of the United States law officers, or through a misconception on their part of the weight of the evidence submitted to them by the President.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—EASTERN DISTRICT.

Before Judge Benedict.

The March term of the United States Circuit Court of the Eastern District was opened yesterday. Assistant District-Attorney Parris said that no criminal cases would be ready until next Wednesday. The jurors were then discharged until next Wednesday at 12 o'clock.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

Before Commissioner Osborn.

United States vs. Charles A. Willard, charged with embezzling letters, at the Carriers' Department of the Post Office.

James Gayler, special agent, saw the defendant at the Carriers' Department on the 9th of March, and told him he had taken letters; the defendant denied it; the witness searched him and found three letters in his coat pocket, with a little money; he then told Mr. Willard that on the day before he (Willard) had been seen to take nine letters; the prisoner asked if the matter couldn't be settled up, and the witness told him no. This statement was confirmed by W. H. Haywood, a carrier, who was present at the time.

Further examination was postponed to Friday.

United States vs. David Lichtenheim and Sigismund Funk, charged with conspiring to defraud the Government by evasion of the tobacco tax. The counsel for the defence yesterday moved that Mr. Lichtenheim be discharged, on the ground that the witness (Fuchs) against him was a man who was by his own admission a perjurer. The Commissioner withheld his decision and postponed the case to Monday.

Three sailors from the Swedish ship Legent were brought before Commissioner Osborn, charged with deserting the ship. The captain showed that their time had not yet expired, and that they were not American citizens, and the Commissioner, therefore, ordered them to be confined; but on their promising to go to the ship and behave themselves, he let them go.

Before Commissioner Betts.

United States vs. Bernard Hess, charged with an attempt to blackmail J. G. Berlinghoff, a cigar maker, in 1867.

Mr. Berlinghoff being sworn, said that in August of 1867 Hess came to his store or factory, No. 84 Third-street, seized 41,050 cigars, and demanded $50 to let them go; the complainant refused to pay anything; a few days afterward Marshal Murray took the cigars away, and since then the complainant has not seen them, nor has he been able to obtain an examination, although he has made an affidavit in 1867, like the one on which Mr. Hess was arrested last week, and sent it to the Revenue Board.

Theresa Berlinghoff, the complainant's wife, told the same story as to the demand for $50.

The case was adjourned to Tuesday.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT—EASTERN DISTRICT.

Before Commissioner Jones.

THE DRAWBACK FRAUDS.

The examination in the alleged drawback fraud case was continued yesterday, the testimony taken being for the defence.

Charles B. Hatfield testified as follows: I have known Dickinson since last June; I was foreman in his factory in Dey-street; I am acquainted with his handwriting; have seen him write many times. Claim No. 46,934, claim of J. F. Rogers, shown to witness.

Q.—Is that his handwriting? A.—No Sir; I should say it is not.

Claim No. 47,303 containing the signature of E. M. Thompson was shown to witness.

Q.—Is that Dickinson's handwriting? A.—No Sir; I should say it is not.

Q.—Are any of them like his handwriting? A.—No, Sir, but the signature on manifest "A" is more like it than the others.

Cross-examined—I have read all his correspondence; I made the characteristics of his handwriting a study.

W. W. Russell testified as follows: I have been acquainted with Dickinson for some months; the same claims were showed to this witness, who said it is not his ordinary handwriting; the signatures on claim No. 47,303 are not anything at all like his handwriting.

Cross-examined—I am a cousin of Mr. Dickinson; I saw his handwriting while in his employ; I have seen him write in a disguised hand; he writes a light hand generally; these signatures are very heavy.

Q.—Are you so familiar with Mr. Dickinson's handwriting that you could distinguish it even if it was in a disguised hand? A.—I think I could.

Q.—Were you familiar with his handwriting at the time he was with Mr. Reisenberger? A.—No, Sir.

Q.—When did you first see him write? A.—About a year ago.

To the Commissioner—I went into his employ last March, and remained there nearly a year.

The handwriting in the body of the claim No. 46,934 is not like Dickinson's.

Mr. Hatfield recalled: The signatures are not in Dickinson's handwriting; I do not see any of the characteristics of his handwriting.

FOR THE PROSECUTION.

Lorenzo N. Arnold testified as follows: I live in New-York; two years ago I was engaged in the mining business, and occupied desk room in Mr. Reisenberger's office; Dickinson was in partnership; I know they were engaged in collecting claims for drawback; I did some writing for them; Mr. Reisenberger asked me to fill up some of the blanks for him. Several special manifests and bonds were shown to witness, who recognized them as being in his handwriting.

Q.—Did you sign G. M. Thompson to any of those papers? A.—No sir.

Q.—Who did? A.—Mr. Dickinson; I took the draft from the Post Office; it was a letter directed to G. M. Thompson, care of Mr. Reisenberger; he did not open the letter in my presence; the indorsement, L. H. Arnold, on the draft, is in my hand-writing; Mr. Reisenberger asked me to do so; I got it cashed at a broker's office; the signature of G. M. Thompson, I should say, was written by Dickinson; I have seen him write the signature G. M. Thompson; do not remember whether any one else was present at that time; claim No. 46,944 was shown; the filling up is mine in the special manifest; the certificate of the collector that that bond had been given, the filling up in the affidavit.

Q.—Who signed the name J. T. Rogers to those papers? A.—Dickinson signed these.

Q.—Did you know J. T. Rogers? A.—No, Sir.

Q.—Did you ever hear of such a man? A.—No, Sir.

Q.—Did you know, at the time these claims were made out, that they were fraudulent? A.—Only at the last, when I went into the office and saw Mr. Reisenberger signing some papers; I was in Reisenberger's office about six months; I have not the slightest idea how many claims I made out for them.

Q.—Did you know at the time that J. F. Rogers was a fictitious person? A.—I did not know it at the time.

Q.—Did you know that G. M. Thompson was a fictitious person? A.—Yes, Sir; I supposed he must be, because I saw Dickinson sign it.

Cross-examined—I have been acquainted with Reisenberger for four or five years; the first business transaction I had with him was in the office in Broad-street, and he asked me to do some writing for him; that was in April, 1867; I made Dickinson's acquaintance shortly after; he came to the office with Reisenberger; he came there almost daily; I did not know that he was a clerk for Korn & Wellwood; he would come into the office several times a day; I filled out the blanks Mr. Reisenberger presented to me; he furnished me with the data; I don't know whether Dickinson ever directed me to do anything; I never signed any blanks; I am not a very skillful penman; I have only one handwriting, and generally use a steel pen; when Dickinson signed the papers he was sitting at the desk in the small office; Mr. Reisenberger did not pay me any salary; I picked up a living by little commissions; I was standing close by Dickinson when he signed the papers; he called my attention to a new large-sized gold pen he was using at the time; I swear that both the signatures I have mentioned were made by Mr. Dickinson; the signature on manifest "A" is a bold one, and there was some remark made about it, and looked at the paper after he had signed it; the signature of J. M. Thompson he wrote in the first place on a piece of paper two or three times before he signed the papers; the business ended sometime toward the latter part of June; I saw Reisenberger and Dickinson after that time; I did not fill out any papers after Frear ran away with the money.

At this point the examination was again adjourned until Tuesday next.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—BROOKLYN.

Before Judge Gilbert.

A COTTON COMMISSION CASE.

Daniel H. Baldwin vs. Roswell Burrough.—This action is brought by the plaintiff against the defendants for the recovery of moneys advanced upon cotton, committed into the hands of the plaintiff to sell upon commission. It appears that the defendants under the firm name of F. B. Blanchard & Co., were interested in the purchase and shipment abroad of a thousand bales of cotton. It is alleged that they entered into an arrangement with and employed the plaintiffs as commission agents on the agreement of 1½ per cent. upon the net proceeds, to ship said cotton to their correspondents, Messrs. B. Whetworth & Bros., of Manchester, and having a branch in Liverpool, in England. The plaintiffs alleged that after this arrangement was made they advanced $28,000 on the cotton, besides paying $246 79 in effecting marine insurance; that they received 255 bales and shipped them according to directions, the proceeds of which was $17,240 21; that beyond $4,648 33, which was paid them on account by Henry McClellan, one of the defendants, they have not been paid; and that there is yet due them $12,591 88, with interest. The defendants' answer denied the allegations, and charged the plaintiffs with having sold the cotton at a price which was of but one-half its value, and that they lost $50,000, and therefore put in a counter claim. Case still on.

Evarts, Southmayd and Choate for plaintiffs; Doolittle, Davis and Van Cott for defendants.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM—MARCH 17.

Before Judge Jones.

A TANGLED WEB.

Boardman vs. Davidson, Executor of Thomas Gregan, et al.—This action, to enforce the terms of a verbal agreement, in substitution of a written one alleged to have been obtained by misrepresentation, has now occupied the Court and counsel six days, in an attempt to unravel its mysteries. As the parties are all well known among the livery-stable keepers of this City, the case excites considerable interest, and grows out of the following alleged facts:

In the year 1861, plaintiff Boardman and one George D. Davis agreed to procure a lease of five lots of ground, corner of Seventh-avenue and Forty-second-street, and to erect stables thereon costing about $10,000, each furnishing half the amount. In pursuance of this arrangement, a lease for twenty-one years was obtained from defendants Livingston and wife for an annual consideration of $1,800, with taxes and assessments, and conditioned for two renewals. Boardman and Davis proceeded to erect the stables, expending therefor about $15,000, $2,100 of which was contributed by Davis, and the balance by Boardman, except $3,500 raised by joint mortgage on the premises. Subsequently, in 1862, Boardman formed a partnership with one George Clemens to keep a livery stable, and in April of the same year Davis and Boardman executed a sub-lease for five years to Thaddeus E. Tilyou, from the first of May following, for the benefit of Boardman. Then Tilyou sub-let to Boardman and Clemens part of the premises as tenants at will, and another part to other persons, continuing up to January, 1864. In October, 1862, Boardman assigned all his interest in the lease to Tilyou, for his (Boardman's) use, and Tilyou thereafter held all the interests assigned to him for the benefit of Boardman. In 1864, Boardman's interest stood in the foregoing condition. At the same time Davis' title had passed through various parties, and vested in Geo. E. Mendum, subject to a mortgage in favor of Wm. P. Hilliard, but of which Davis claimed to be the owner. The partnership between Boardman and Clemens now grew unsatisfactory; taxes and rent were in arrear, and Davis or his assignees claimed a half interest in the leasehold, although he had not contributed half the amount expended in its improvement. Boardman was embarrassed in trying to raise money by mortgaging the lease, and desired to sell out and wind up the business, and the landlord wanted his rent, and proposed to dispossess all parties, but expressed a willingness to favor Boardman if the rent and taxes were paid. At this time the defendant, Thomas Gregan, (who is now dead,) an acquaintance of Boardman and familiar with his circumstances, proposed to go into partnership with him individually, in the livery stable business, and in the buying and selling of horses, provided they could vest a clear title to the lease in themselves by dispossessing the other tenants and buying up Davis' share. This arrangement was agreed to by Livingston, and, with a view to carrying it out, it was agreed between Boardman and Gregan that Boardman should assign to him (Gregan) all the former's interest in the leasehold as temporary security for moneys to be advanced by Gregan for the payment of back rent, taxes, the release of Davis' interest, and perfecting of title, and that for one year (while the time to redeem was expiring) they should be partners in the business, and when Gregan was paid his advance he should reconvey the entire lease to Boardman or his wife, if so held as security; and further, that when the year's partnership ended, and the title to the leasehold was clear, Boardman, on the receipt of the amount due him from the partnership, and the value of his interest in the lease and buildings, would release his interest absolutely to Gregan. The agent of Livingston, Gregan and Boardman gave instructions to their counsel to prepare papers and take proceedings to perfect this arrangement.

Judgment to dispossess was obtained before Justice Van Voorhis against plaintiff, and all the sub-tenants, it being at the same time understood between plaintiff and Livingston that the execution of the warrant should be delayed until he, plaintiff, should have time to arrange with Gregan and make surrender of possession, and that then Livingston should execute a lease for the same rent to a person named by plaintiff, and he, plaintiff, retake possession. Mr. Wettmore was to represent Boardman, and Mr. Brewer was employed to look after the interests of Gregan. In December, 1863, Boardman says Gregan requested that the lease be made out in the name of a Mr. Davidson, and then by him transferred to plaintiff and himself, and wished plaintiff to see Brewer and ask him to have the papers ready, and he (Gregan) would come down and close the transaction. After several adjournments it was finally agreed that the parties should meet on the 5th of January at the office of Mr. Wettmore, and perfect all the papers. On the day appointed, Boardman went to the office of Wettmore and found him absent, but found there Delafield, the agent of Livingston, Gregan & Brewer, and Wettmore's clerk, who was copying papers at the dictation of Brewer. Brewer said Livingston had concluded to execute the lease to Gregan, and that it became necessary to change the papers in this respect. Plaintiff then tried to find Wettmore but failed, and returning to the office found all the other parties there, including Tilyou. Brewer insisted on the matter being closed, but Boardman says he hesitated until his counsel should be present. Boardman says Brewer told him it was all right, that the papers were the same as those prepared by Wettmore except in respect to the name of Gregan, and Boardman thereupon trusting to Brewer and Gregan that the papers were all right, and under the pressure exercised on him consented that the matter be then consummated. The warrant to dispossess was thereupon executed. Tilyou, for the benefit of Boardman, executed assignment to Gregan as collateral security; the keys of the stable were delivered to Gregan, and Gregan put the plaintiff in possession, at the same time giving him $300 to use in the business. Gregan paid rent and taxes and costs of dispossessing, and Boardman and he entered on the stable business, all of which, as plaintiff considered, was in legitimate pursuance of the original undertaking with Gregan. Plaintiff also, a month subsequently, in pursuance of the same alleged agreement, negotiated with and obtained a release from Davis of his interest and right of redemption for a consideration of $1,700, which interest was duly assigned to Gregan for plaintiff's benefit, and soon thereafter for the same purpose, procured an assignment of the mortgage from Howell, thus clearing the title from the leasehold.

In April, 1864, Gregan, without notice, turned the plaintiff away from the stables, forbade him coming there, and at the same telling him that he, Gregan, had the papers so fixed as to make him, Gregan, sole owner. Plaintiff then applied to Wettmore, his lawyer, and found that the original papers drawn had been concealed, and learned for the first time that the papers had been altered from their original import, as he alleges; that he had been deceived by Brewer and Gregan, and that the papers executed did not express the understanding and agreement between the parties. The papers executed are an absolute conveyance of the leasehold to Gregan, and provide by a separate paper that upon repayment to Gregan by Boardman's wife of one-half of all moneys advanced by Gregan, including all expenses, Gregan should recover only one-half of the lease; whereas the original (as plaintiff claims) papers provided that upon payment of the whole of the advances, the whole lease should be reconveyed to Boardman's wife. This theory of the agreement on the part of plaintiff is denied by defendants, and the written agreement claimed to be the actual one, and other matter is set up justifying the discharge of plaintiff from the stables. It is sought by this action to compel defendants to reform the papers so as to correspond with the actual agreement as understood by plaintiff, and under that agreement to redeem the premises from the mortgage which plaintiff claims is the legal effect of the agreement. Plaintiff asks a decree of redemption and a reference to ascertain the amount legitimately advanced by Gregan under the agreement with plaintiff, so that upon his representatives being paid the amount of his advance with interest, the leasehold may be reassigned to plaintiff, and asks an accounting of rents received during occupation by Gregan, and profits of the partnership. The value of the interests in question including renewals of lease, is claimed to be $28,000.

Albert Mathews, Henry Nichol and A. J. Vanderpool for plaintiff; Louis L. Delafield, Thomas C. Fields and John Graham for defendants.

Before Judge Freedman.

HERMITAGE HALL LITIGATION—AN ACCOUNTING ORDERED.

David Winebrenner vs. Cornell & Johnson—This was an action involving the ownership of Hermitage Hall. The Court has decided that Cornell & Johnson shall cancel their deed and come to an accounting for the rents which have been received. For this purpose a reference has been ordered to A. J. Smith, Esq.

Tracy & Powers for plaintiff; E. W. Dodge for defendants.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART II.—MARCH 17.

Before Judge Fithian and a Jury.

BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.

Isabella D. Mandeville vs. Edward Birmingham.—The jury in this case returned this morning a sealed verdict in favor of plaintiff for $100.

E. Nagle for plaintiff; Sackett, Webster Sackett for defendant.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—MARCH 17.

Before Judge Curtis.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN COURT.

In this Court Mr. Malcolm Campbell moved that the Court adjourn for the day for the purpose of allowing such jurors, witnesses and parties litigant, as desired to do so, to attend upon the celebration of the anniversary of the birthday of the Patron Saint of Ireland. The motion was duly seconded by a member of the Bar.

Judge CURTIS, in granting the motion to adjourn, said: I think it is proper that the Court should adjourn over until to-morrow to give an opportunity to those in attendance here, who desire to embrace the same, to participate in the festivities of this day. It is fit that every tribute should be paid to that heroic race who, by their valor and industry, have done so much to maintain American institutions. Let the calendar of to-day be that of to-morrow.

DECISIONS.

SUPREME COURT, CHAMBERS—MARCH 17.

By Judge Ingraham.

POLICE TRIALS.

Before Commissioner Brennan.

Yesterday morning, punctually at 9 o'clock, Commissioner BRENNAN entered the spacious trial room at Police Headquarters with twenty complaints under his arm against sundry policemen. But, with the exception of the reporters, the room was vacant. A couple of patrolmen from the Fifth Precenct soon came in and their cases, which were unimportant, were disposed of. The Commissioner was apparently somewhat perplexed at the aspect of affairs. Sergeant Davis was dispatched to find out the reason for the non-appearance of officers for trial. He soon returned, saying that he had been informed by the telegraph operators that by order of the Superintendent, notice had been sent to all the Station-houses in this City and Brooklyn, that the trials were adjourned. The Commissioner remarked that he supposed he must ask the permission of the Superintendent when to try the cases, as long as that officer had assumed the responsibility of adjourning them; and subsequently added: "Mr. Kennedy has adjourned these cases, and we will let him set a day to try them. If the Board of Police is going to let the Superintendent adjourn cases without notifying the presiding Commissioner, we had better shut up shop at once." It appeared that at a meeting of the Police Commissioners the day before, the Superintendent had been directed to furnish more men for escorting, &c., the procession on St. Patrick's Day than he would otherwise have turned out for that purpose. It was in consequence of receiving these instructions that the Superintendent adjourned the trials through the telegraph. How it happened that such an oversight should occur as the failure to notify the presiding Commissioner of the fact was not shown. Perhaps, under the circumstances, the postponement could very readily be justified. The Commissioner did not adjourn the cases to any special day.

WEDNESDAY, March 17—P. M.

The sales of Gold opened this morning as though the recently inaugurated bullish clique in the Room meant to push the price above 132 ₱ cent., and transactions were actually made as high as 131⅞ ₱ cent. But the calculations made on the supposed scarcity of the Cash Gold, because of its rapid absorption for Customs, were evidently at fault, and so were the intended facilities for tying up the supply on the Street for a sharp corner. The snug Money market and the cheap and over-abundant Foreign Exchanges caused a downward turn in the sales of Gold to 131⅝@½@⅜@¼ ₱ cent., the quotation being 131¼ at the close of regular 'Change hours. The Treasury received $521,000 for customs, making about $1,750,000 for the three business days of the week. The Import entries for consumption, both direct and by withdrawal from Bond, are on a continued large scale, and present appearances indicate that the fiscal Year ending 30th June will yield to the Treasury the heaviest amount of Customs in the history of Government.

There is a great variety of Foreign Exchange offered this week, and the rates on London are not only lower on actual sales, but very much unsettled. While some of the leading drawers are asking 109⅜@109½ ₱ cent., short sight, Cable transfers have been made as low as 109¼ ₱ cent., which is rather better for the buyer than 109 ₱ cent., short sight, saving fifteen to twenty days in time and the stamp charges on both sides the Atlantic. And so of the 60-day rates; the standard rate is called 108⅝ ₱ cent., while on actual transactions 108⅜@108½ ₱ cent. has been readily accepted by first-class drawers. The Philadelphia Banking House of Messrs. E. W. CLARK & Co. recently placed £800,000 sterling debentures of the Camden and Amboy Railway Company of New-Jersey through Messrs. JUNIUS S. MORGAN & Co., of London, and part of the Exchange against this negotiation is reported to have been sold in this market yesterday. At the close, to-day, we quote 60-days London 108⅝@¾ ₱ cent.; short sight 109⅜@109½ ₱ cent.

In the early part of the day there was less inquiry for Money than on Tuesday, and some of the heavy borrowers reported a comparatively easy supply, but between 2 and 3 o'clock another demand was again reported, and the market left off close to the Brokers in Gold and the Railway Stocks at 7 ₱ cent. Some of the leading dealers in the Public Funds, on the other hand, reported a free offering on Government collateral at this rate. As heretofore remarked the Banks, as a rule, are pleading poverty, their present lines of Loans and Discounts being quite full enough for their Capital and Deposits. Several of the heaviest Banks in the City make this report to us. The unusually large stock of Cotton held here under advances for both Southern and New-York account is one source of absorption, though this may possibly soon be relieved by the approximation of the Liverpool market to the views of New-York holders.

On the Stock Exchange there was slightly bearish feeling in the Public Funds through the forenoon, and prices on the various 5-20s were barely held steady, but sellers were generally cautious not to offer round amounts, and in the afternoon, as the Cable quotations came better, the market left off with more confidence on the part of holders and of buyers. The Foreign orders have recently embraced the 5-20s of 1865, January and July series, and they are ruling here, for the first time of late, a fraction above the 1867s. The Currency 6 ₱ cents have advanced to 103⅞ ₱ cent. The 10-40 ₱ cents rule steady at 105⅜@105½ ₱ cent. The State Bonds were weak on North Carolinas, Tennessees and Missouris, and steady for Virginias and Louisianas.

In the Railway market the feature of the day was in the wide and frequent fluctuations in New-York Central—from 158¾ to 158⅛ to 160⅝ to 158⅞ ₱ cent. There was a large business done in the Stock, especially between the regular Boards in the Long Room, and the secret springs (supposed to be such,) of the movement imparted unusual interest to what is believed to be a speculation on the pending questions relating to the recently-declared 80 ₱ cent. increased values upon the Stock. With these settled in favor of the Company and their authority to pay the same Dividends, from the 1st of August last, as upon the original Stock, the latter will stand worth upon the books 183.20 ₱ cent., to wit: original par, $100 ₱ share; increased value in the new Interest Certificates, $80, and the suspended 4 ₱ cent. on these Certificates, equal to $3 20 on the Stock. The Western Roads were irregular. Toledo, Rock Island and the Northwests firm; the St. Louis, Fort Wayne and Michigan Southern steady.

On the Miscellaneous list there was a further heavy fall in Pacific Mail down to 92¼@92½ ₱ cent., and a partial recovery in Quicksilver. The Mariposa Shares advanced to 18 for the Common and 34¼ for the Preferred.

In the new Railway Loans, Messrs. JAY COOKE & Co. report that they have opened the Lake Superior 7 ₱ cent. Gold Loan with a very gratifying demand, both from home investors and for shipment to Europe. They expect the whole sum of $4,500,000 to be closed out in the course of a few weeks.

The Tribune has the following on the improved facilities to the local business of the Long Island Railroad:

"The ensuing season will undoubtedly open a new era in railroad matters on Long Island. During the past week there have been several friendly meetings between the officers of the Long Island Railroad Company and the commuters who travel by that road, with a view to the reduction of fare and the addition of trains between the several stations. It is the intention of the President, Mr. OLIVER CHARLICK, and his Superintendent, Mr. J. D. BARTON, to make this road one of the best roads in the country. For years past the fare on the road has been so excessively high as to deter many persons from purchasing property on the island, especially on the line of the road. Now that the obstruction has been removed, Long Island, during the coming season, may look for a large influx to its population. During the past Winter large additions have been made to the rolling stock of the road, so that at the present time it is one of the best equipped roads in the country. Trains are run with clock-like regularity, while not an accident or loss of life has occurred on the road during the past year. The new boats now in process of construction for the Company are rapidly approaching completion, when the time between James-slip and Hunter's Point will be made in fifteen minutes, just half the time now occupied, while the run between Hunter's Point and Jamaica, a distance of ten miles, will be made in twenty minutes. With the commencement of the Spring arrangements the traveling community on the South Side Railroad are to have more trains and low rates of fare and commutation. The Company have contracted for the building of a dummy engine that will combine all the improvements demanded by those opposed to the introduction of steam as a motive power in the streets of Williamsburg. The number of boats on the ferries is to be increased, and the present unavoidable delays obviated. The Company also intend to construct a branch road during the coming season, from Pearsall's Corner to Far Rockaway, which will do away with the present tedious ride by stage. The extension of the road from Sayville to Patchogue is rapidly approaching completion, and trains will run to the latter point early next month.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

☞ THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS OF the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company pay both the Principal and Seven per Cent. Interest—1st February and 1st August—in GOLD COIN, Free of Government Tax.

A limited amount only of these Bonds may be had, at par and accrued interest in currency, of H. H. BOODY, Treasurer, No. 12 Wall-st., or of HENRY CLEWS & CO., Bankers, No. 32 Wall-st.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

☞ SAFE DEPOSIT DEPARTMENT OF THE NATIONAL PARK BANK.—For the safekeeping and protection from fire and burglars, of Securities of all kinds, including Bonds, Stocks, Mortgages, Wills and Diamonds, and valuable Jewelry of every description. An inspection of the vault, constructed by the National Park Bank in their new building, will at once convince all parties interested that the most perfect attainable security has been reached, and at an extremely moderate annual cost to each individual depositor. The officers will take pleasure in showing the vault on application.

☞ BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY.—A valuable commercial newspaper, published in New-York City, will be sold for a fair price. One or more parties, desiring to give personal attention to the business, will find this an excellent opportunity for investment. Address, with name and references, COMMERCIAL NEWSPAPER, Box No. 2,936 New-York Post Office.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

Board of Assistant Aldermen—Stated Session.

[OFFICIAL.]

MONDAY, March 15, 1869—2 o'clock P. M.

(Concluded.)

Resolved, That Eighty-seventh-street, from the Road or Public Drive to the easterly side of the new avenue laid out by the Commissioners of the Central Park, the same being one hundred feet east of the easterly line of Twelfth-avenue, be regulated, graded, curbed and guttered, and the sidewalks flagged the space of four feet wide through the centre thereof.

Which was laid over.

Resolved, That from and after the passage of this resolution, all the public offices of the Corporation of the City of New-York shall be closed at three o'clock P. M.

(In Board of Aldermen, March eleven, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, said resolution amended by adding after the words "three o'clock P. M." the words "on Saturday.")

Which was concurred in.

Resolved, That all avenues be renumbered, where not already done, under the direction of the Street Commissioner.

Which was laid over by unanimous consent.

GENERAL ORDERS.

Resolved, That a crosswalk be laid from southwest to the southeast corner of New-Bowery and Roosevelt-street.

Which was adopted by the following vote:

Affirmative—Assistant Aldermen Healy, Lysaght, the President, Assistant Aldermen Robinson, Hill, Hampson, Welch, Culkin, Hoffman, Pinckney, Daly, Gibney, John Reilly, Pettit, Haughton, Cregier, O'Neil, Jackson, Cunningham, Roberts—20.

Resolved, That the Croton Aqueduct Department be and they are hereby directed to lay, take charge of and keep in order such mains as they may deem necessary to convey an abundant supply of Croton water to the institutions in charge of the Commissioners of Public Charities and Correction, situate on Blackwell's, Ward's and Randall's Islands, in the City of New-York, the expense to be charged to the appropriation for "Waterpipes and Laying."

Which was adopted by the following vote:

Resolved, That One Hundred and Twenty-second-street, from Second to Third-avenue, be paved continuously with the pavement known as the "Fisk concrete pavement."

Assistant Alderman Roberts moved to amend said resolution and ordinance by striking therefrom the words following:

"Continuously with the pavement known as the 'Fisk concrete pavement,' in accordance with the specification now on file in the office of the Clerk of the Common Council, and the crosswalks parallel with the line of the proposed pavement be readjusted to the grade of the said proposed pavement, without extra charge therefor," and to insert in lieu thereof the words following:

"With Belgian or trap-block pavement, and that at the several intersecting streets and avenues crosswalks be laid where not now laid, and relaid where those now laid are, in the opinion of the Croton Aqueduct Board, not in good repair, or are not upon a grade adapted to the grade of the proposed new pavement."

Which was lost.

Resolution and ordinance then adopted by the following vote:

Affirmative—Assistant Aldermen Healy, Lysaght, the President, Assistant Aldermen Robinson, Hill, Hampson, Welch, Culkin, Hoffman, Daly, Gibney, John Reilly, Pettit, Haughton, O'Neil, Jackson, Cunningham—17.

Negative—Assistant Aldermen Pinckney, Cregier, Roberts—3.

Resolved, That the sidewalks on both sides of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth-street, from Eighth-avenue to Harlem River, be flagged full width with Fisk concrete flagging where not already done.

Which was adopted by the following vote:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EUROPE.

The North German Parliament have passed a bill securing freedom of speech in all the Diets of Germany.

JAMES B. ANDREWS, Esq., of New-York, son of LORING ANDREWS, was married to Miss FANNIE GRISWOLD FIELD, youngest daughter of CYRUS W. FIELD, at the United States Legation in Paris, yesterday.

During the sitting of the Spanish Constituent Cortes on Tuesday General PRIM, the Minister of War, announced that the Monarchists were prepared with their candidate for the throne, and that his name would be made public at an early day.

The draught of the new Spanish Constitution which is soon to be submitted to the Cortes, is said to establish complete civic and religious liberty, but retains Catholicism as the State Church.

The annual boat race for the championship between the Oxford and Cambridge Universities took place yesterday, on the River Thames. The distance rowed was five miles, and accomplished in twenty minutes and six seconds. Oxford won by four lengths, and no accident occurred to mar the occasion.

Large meetings have been held in Dublin and Belfast for the agitation of the question of the disestablishment of the Irish Church.

Serious disturbances have occurred in Andalusia, in consequence of the opposition of the people to the military conscription. Fighting had ensued between the troops and the populace, two of the latter being killed. The Cortes have decided to uphold the Government at any cost.

CUBA.

A decree has been issued reducing the taxes one-half, and a new tariff for exports under a foreign flag adopted.

The insurgents at Villa Clara have issued five-dollar currency notes, payable on the achievement of independence.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. SUMNER presented a memorial from citizens of Texas relative to the disturbed condition of affairs in that section, and suggesting that the State be divided. The Committee on Judiciary reported the bill to enforce the Fourteenth Amendment in the State of Georgia, though as the Committee failed to recommend any action the bill was suffered to go over. A bill to provide a mode of settlement of certain claims was next introduced, and provides for the appointment of two additional Judges of the Court of Claims. The bill was appropriately referred. Bills to grant lands to certain railroad and telegraph companies were also presented and referred. The following bills were also introduced and referred: To authorize a mail contract with the New-York and Antwerp Steamship Company; to continue the education of the freedmen. The Tenure-of-Office bill then came up, the expiration of the morning hour having cut short an interesting debate on the extension of Transatlantic telegraph lines. The discussion on the bill to repeal the act lasted until 4 o'clock, when it ceased, in consequence of Mr. DRAKE's motion again carrying the Senate into Executive Session.

In the House, the Indian Appropriation bill, for $2,424,000, came up, and was made the special order for to-day. The joint resolution to supply omissions in the General Appropriation bills was reported from Committee and received animated discussion, in which Mr. BUTLER became involved in a controversy with Mr. SCHENCK and others. The joint resolution was finally passed by a vote of 100 to 43. The House then adjourned.

GENERAL.

Mail advices from Buenos Ayres are dated Jan. 28. They embody an interesting retrospect of recent events, with additional particulars concerning the character of the Administration of LOPEZ. That General had halted at Cerro Leon, and had issued a proclamation to the remnants of his army, encouraging them and predicting that fortune would still favor the Paraguayan arms. LOPEZ, at latest accounts, was still within thirty leagues of Asuncion, and no attempt was being made to molest him.

NORMAN SCHAFER, a mechanic, committed suicide by cutting his throat yesterday at Rochester, while temporarily insane in consequence of illness.

A brutal and unprovoked murder was committed on Sunday morning, about four miles from Hampton, Va. A man named JOHN THOMAS, who resides near Little Bethel, was aroused by some noise in his smoke-house, and fearing that it might be robbers, he took down his shot-gun and passed out of the back door. He advanced cautiously and found three negroes busily engaged in prying open the door. As he came up near them he asked: "What are you doing there?" when they all fired at him and fled. The balls took effect, one in the face, one in the shoulder and the third near the heart, but did not prove instantly fatal. THOMAS lingered until noon, when death ensued. No arrests have yet been made.

The Lighthouse Board will place a light-vessel at Windmill Point, Chesapeake Bay, some time during the week.

Mr. J. M. LARRABEE, City Treasurer and Collector of Gardiner, Me., who has been connected with the City Government for many years, is found to be a defaulter to the amount of $5,000. His father promises to make good the amount.

The strike among the journeymen in the morocco manufactories of Philadelphia is virtually ended, most of the workmen having gone to work at the old rate of wages.

The breach of promise case of SARAH SHERMAN vs. RICHARD RAWSON, which has occupied the time of the Superior Court in Worcester, Mass., for several days past, has resulted in a verdict of $4,000 damages for the plaintiff.

A Washington paper says that on Monday evening Secretary BOUTWELL addressed a note to S. M. CLARK, formerly Chief of Printing Bureau of the Treasury Department, and afterward disbursing agent of the Treasury extension, requesting him to tender his resignation. It is understood that Mr. CLARK immediately complied with the request.

A few days ago a large box was received by the trustees of the Peabody Institute at Danvers, Mass., upon opening which, a splendid full-length oil portrait of Mr. PEABODY was found. The picture is designed to occupy a prominent place in the new Institute building, and was presented by Mr. PEABODY himself.

A velocipede "professor," after having made some money at Waterbury, Conn., by opening a riding-school, sold out his interest, reserving the right to give a farewell exhibition. He announced for Saturday night a grand exhibition and the first appearance of the champion female velocipedist from Boston. Shaving off his whiskers and moustache, he donned female attire and rode his bicycle, to the amazement of a large audience. At midnight he left town with the proceeds of the exhibition and without settling his board bills.

On Tuesday morning, at Auburn, N. Y., the mercury marked sixteen degrees below the freezing point.

The statement is frequently made that Major-General GEORGE H. THOMAS was senior in rank to General SHERIDAN, and that the promotion of the latter to be Lieutenant-General was a slight to the former distinguished officer. This is a mistake, as General SHERIDAN's commission as Major-General bears date Nov. 8, 1864, and General THOMAS' Dec. 15, 1864. General MEADE, however, ranked them both, as his commission is dated Aug. 18, 1864, and General HALLECK dates back to Aug. 19, 1861.

ALBERT ROLLA, a resident of Washington, D. C., committed suicide yesterday in Baltimore, by drowning himself in the harbor.

Miss SUSAN J. WILLESEY, a Postmistress at Jackson Station, near Erie, Penn., has been held to answer a charge of robbing the mails. A money letter containing $15 had been opened and $5 abstracted. In the mail bag containing the letter which had been robbed was found Miss WILLESEY's passbook with her grocer.

A plot is reported as having been discovered in Memphis among the negroes, for the purpose of destroying the town of Helena, Tenn., and they had confessed to having committed the murder of General HINDMAN.

It is stated that Mr. BOUTWELL has tendered the position of First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury to Hon. WILLIAM A. RICHARDSON of Cambridge, Mass., Judge of Probate in Middlesex County.

The joint commission of the British and American Governments to settle the Hudson Bay and Puget Sound difficulties, will meet in New-York to-day. The united amount of the claims of the two companies is $6,000,000. The treaty of 1856, negotiated by Ex-President BUCHANAN and Lord PACKENHAM, stipulated for the protection of the rights of those companies during the continuance of the license granted by the British Government. It is now sought to found upon that license a claim to the fee of the territory so occupied, which the United States resists.

A special dispatch from St. Louis to a Chicago paper says that Mr. H. BOGGS, former partner of President GRANT in the real estate business in St. Louis, died in that city on Saturday last.

Thursday, the 8th of April, is appointed as Fast Day by the Governor of New-Hampshire.

The Mississippi School bill, providing for mixed schools, has became a law, the Governor having affixed his signature thereto. The Board of Commissioners have also been appointed.

The Georgia Senate took up the Fifteenth Amendment, and a motion to postpone it indefinitely resulted in a tie vote, when the question was determined in the affirmative by the vote of the President. This virtually defeats the Amendment.

Hon. GEORGE A. HALSEY, of Newark, has declined to accept the office of Register of the Treasury, which was tendered him by Secretary BOUTWELL.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated yesterday, by the disciples of Ireland's patron saint, in this City and Brooklyn. Immense processions, civic and military, marched through the leading thoroughfares, to the delight of thousands of spectators of both sexes and all ages. In the evening the Knights, Friendly Sons and Shamrock Associations enjoyed bounteous dinners, while the Fenians were entertained at the Cooper Institute. The celebration was very orderly throughout.

Justice DOWLING yesterday committed THOMAS WILSON and his wife, MARIA, to the Tombs for trial, on the charge of having stolen $2,000 in money from an unknown person, in September last. The arrest of the parties was brought about by the confession of the woman, made during a fit of drunkenness.

WALTER B. BUCKLEY, who was severely injured on the Erie Railroad about ten days ago, died yesterday morning. Coroner FLYNN commenced an inquest in the afternoon, which will be continued to-day.

Captain ARMSTRONG, of the ship James Foster, recently from Liverpool, died yesterday at his residence in Brooklyn, of fever caught on board of his vessel. The mate, together with eighty-four of the passengers, still lie very ill.

Cotton was more active and firmer yesterday. Breadstuffs and Provisions attracted more attention; Flour, Wheat, Pork and Lard were dearer. Groceries tamer. Freights dull, with 421 vessels of all classes in port.

Depression of the Shipping Interest—A Massachusetts Report.

A reference to the depression of commerce, in the message of Governor CLAFLIN, has been made the occasion of a report by a committee of the Massachusetts Legislature upon the condition of the shipping interest, and the means required for its restoration to prosperity.

The view presented by the majority of the Committee is, in some respects, little more than an echo of the case as stated by the Maine shipbuilders and owners, and at one time accepted by the United States Senate. It claims for the shipping interest a title to peculiar consideration as "the great motive-power of commerce," and from this point proceeds to indicate divers legislative favors as prerequisites of any material improvement. Thus, in the first place, subsidies to American steamers are urged as essential to enable us to compete with England in ocean steam navigation. To encourage the building of ships, Congress is asked to authorize the remission to the builder of all duties and taxes which enter into their construction. And, finally, to cheapen the sailing of ships, it is proposed that they be "supplied with tea, sugar, coffee, and, indeed, all articles required on shipboard, by being taken out of bonded warehouses, duty free."

But the tax-payers may well protest against all these suggestions. The Treasury is in no condition to assume the burden of subsidies; and as the Post Office Department spends more than it earns, any donation to steamship companies implies a fresh charge upon the pockets of the people. For this they are not prepared, and we fancy that Congress will be wise enough to pause before making the experiment.

So, again, in regard to the special exemption of ships' tea, sugar and coffee from taxation. They are articles which the whole country should be enabled to purchase at less cost; and it does seem monstrous that a small class should seek freedom from customs duties while for all besides they are to be maintained at their present extravagant standard. Give us what Mr. BRIGHT calls "a free breakfast table," and shipowners will benefit equally with their neighbors. More than this they have no right to ask.

The remaining proposition—the allowance of a drawback to shipowners to the amount of duties on imported articles entering into their trade—is open to the two-fold objection of injustice and insufficiency. There can be no defence on fair ground of a system which to benefit one class bears more heavily on all others. The shipping interest is an important interest, beyond doubt, and its renewed prosperity is exceedingly desirable; but, after all, it has ceased to be "the great motive power of commerce" which once it was. That distinction now more properly belongs to the railroad system, whose managers have never dreamed of asking for the aid which is sought in behalf of the shipbuilders. Yet their claim would be quite as reasonable, if considered apart from the respective condition of the two interests. Moreover, the drawback proposed would fall short of "placing the cost of building a ship in this country somewhat on a par with the cost of our rivals in Great Britain." When the subject was before the Senate, early in 1867, the drawback or bounty thus arising was estimated at twenty per cent. upon the cost of a vessel. Mr. WELLS has shown, however, by a series of comparisons between the cost of constructing ships at St. John, New-Brunswick, and the cost at Bath, Maine,—the cheapest shipbuilding port in the United States—that the difference in favor of the Provincial builder is never less than twenty-three per cent., while in the majority of cases it is nearer fifty per cent. If New-York be substituted for Bath, the disadvantage is much greater; the difference in favor of St. John being nearly one hundred per cent. It is evident, therefore, that much more than a twenty per cent. drawback is required to place the American shipbuilder on an equality with his foreign competitor.

One error which commonly enters into the discussion, is the assumption that the interests of shipbuilders and the owners of the mercantile marine are identical. Now, the builder desires to construct ships as cheaply as possible, though, as we have attempted to show, he cannot build, under present circumstances, at as low a rate as pays our Provincial neighbors. On the other hand, the prosperity of the shipowner requires that he shall buy ships where he can obtain them cheapest—that he shall not be compelled to pay a high price for ships built at Bath or New-York, but shall be at liberty to bring them from the Provinces or elsewhere, as cost and convenience may dictate. England, as the report tells us, "allows all nations to build ships for her," while we provide that "no ship built in any country except our own shall be registered or enrolled, or have the privileges of our shipping in the United States." We do not understand the Massachusetts Committee to indorse a policy which has worked profitably for our great rival; the advocates of special legislation in behalf of shipbuilding could scarcely be expected to take a stride so bold and large as that. But they do rebuke the folly of Congress in refusing to readmit vessels built here, but which during the rebellion were placed for safety under another flag; advising instead "a reëntry to American register of all American ships or vessels" so placed, "and not bona fide sold to foreigners." As the recommendation comes from the Massachusetts Legislature, we presume that Mr. SUMNER will by and by consider it compatible with loyalty.

The general tariff question is touched tenderly, but in a manner which the interested apostles of prohibitory duties will not relish. The report suggests that "the rates of duty should be reduced to a point that, while giving incidental protection to our own productions, will give a revenue only to aid in the payment of our national obligations—and not placed so high as to prohibit importation." An adoption of the suggestion would improve the receipts from customs, and at the same time give a quietus to plans which members prominent in the Ways and Means Committee persistently cherish.

With greater emphasis, though not with greater justice, the Massachusetts Legislators recognize among the causes of embarrassment to trade oppressive Internal Revenue taxes and the high cost of living. They propose that "taxes should be reduced and a return to specie payments be made as soon as is consistent with a sound policy." The currency problem, we submit, need no longer alarm. It derived most of its danger from Senatorial quackery and departmental meddling; and with these influences arrested, it will gradually approach a satisfactory solution. The country, left to itself, will reach specie payments naturally, smoothly and without unreasonable delay. Tax reform is a different matter, and one which cannot be too loudly or too often pressed upon the attention of Congress. We shall have diminished taxation only as a result of popular discontent.

It is a mistake on the part of those who would serve the shipping interest to separate it from the general welfare, by making it a subject of exceptional legislation. The causes which depress it are causes from which the whole country suffers, and true relief must be sought in a direction fraught with benefit to all. From some disadvantages occasioned by the war there is no immediate escape. But it is in the power of Congress, by retrenchment and reduced taxation, by a cautious policy on financial questions, and by cultivating friendly relations between North and South, to lighten the cost of living, and to inspire trade and industry with a degree of health sadly needed by both.

Mexico in a Muddle.

Every mail from Mexico makes its situation appear more desperate. It seems to be conceded that the present Government is inadequate to the task of preserving peace and order, or giving security to life and property. It now exhibits a sign of activity by frequent executions of rebels and arrests and imprisonments of suspected revolutionists; but that sort of irregular vigor is almost as fruitless as its previous sloth. It amounts to little to bolt the barn-door with care after the horse is stolen, NEGRETE's officers are shot as fast as captured; but that does not alter the fact that the outlawed General captured and held for four days the important City of Puebla.

What the upshot will be of all this turmoil, it is hard to predict. But it is pretty clear that the remedy must come from without, rather than from within. Ordinarily, we admit, the regeneration of a people must be its own work—the old lines are perfectly true, "who would be free themselves must strike the blow; by their right arms the conquest must be wrought." But with Mexico it is not a case of freedom, but of too much freedom; it is anarchy, not despotism, that afflicts the Republic; the country is not "governed too much," but governed hardly at all.

On the other hand, it is certain, first, that JUAREZ has had all the chance that could be had to establish tranquillity and renew prosperity; and secondly, that he is probably as capable as any ruler of giving satisfaction to the people. If others are abler than he, they are, very likely, proportionally more selfish. He came into office on the crest of the wave of gratitude and patriotism—the leader who had redeemed the country from foreign invasion. If his failure has been signal, it has also been significant. We can hope for no better things until the new Minister to Mexico presents himself at its capital with well-considered instructions from President GRANT.

American Feeling on the Alabama Claims.

That Mr. JOHNSON has not correctly interpreted to the people of England the feeling which we of America bear them, is very clear; but we hold it to be no less clear that the extreme reactionary tirade indulged in certain quarters is quite as grave a misrepresentation of American feeling. It is clearly a mistake in him to figure us as glowing with the fires of fraternal affection toward Great Britain; but it is just as great a mistake to represent us as burning with resentment and hate.

We protest that the wild talk lately indulged of procuring "the humiliation of England," and of taking nothing less in the settlement of the Alabama claims, is utterly without authority, governmental or popular. It is the mere raving of journals accustomed to go to frenzied extremes on all subjects, and accordingly on this. There is certainly no official authority for such a position. To propose terms of settlement for damages which by their nature cannot be reduced to definite form, and to make those terms of settlement the "humiliation" of one's adversary "means war,"—as Mr. THORNTON is reported to have said. President GRANT's watchword has always been, "Let us have peace," and in his Inaugural Address he declared, "I would respect the rights of all nations, demanding equal respect for our own." That he is dissatisfied with the first draft of the Alabama Convention is very true; but that he proposes "the humiliation of Great Britain" as a substitute for that Convention is an inference as unwarranted as it is preposterous.

Nor is there any popular foundation in this demand for "humiliation." The true feeling of the American people regarding the Clarendon-Johnson protocol has been one of thorough disappointment. But it has certainly been no feeling of anger, nor even of indignation, nor hardly of chagrin. The feeling is simply that the Convention does not represent the well-understood popular feeling in Great Britain, as well as America, regarding the proper terms of settlement, and hence must be rejected. Our own conviction at the outset was that, with this popular feeling in both countries so clear, the obvious looseness and vagueness in the formal Convention could be modified after thorough discussion in the Senate, and in any case would not probably impede the expected payment of damages.

From the uniform tone of the Parliament, the Press, and the Public of Great Britain, we had been led to expect, we still are led to expect, that the British Government is ready to pay every dollar of damages done by the Anglo-Confederate cruisers that escaped from its jurisdiction. If this be not so, we had better recommence our cause ab initio, and, as Mr. JOHNSON says, it is for England's interest to settle those claims rather than to leave them outstanding. On the other hand, if this be so, why do we see nothing of it in the actual protocol?

That Convention starts with the assumption that nothing is settled. It supposes it to be a matter of uncertainty whether the Alabama claims ought to be paid at all. It provides that these claims, when presented, shall be acted on, not as a class, but individually, and individually referred for arbitration in case of dispute as to their validity. It is not even provided that the arbiter shall always be the same; whereby it might obviously happen that one claim would be allowed and another disallowed, simply because one arbiter introduced the consideration into his mind of "British recognition of rebel belligerency," and another did not. In short—not to multiply examples of this sort—it is clear that the Convention did not express the substantial public understanding which we of America presume that the two countries have come to.

As we have already said, a substantial understanding may, and generally does, guide the decision of a Convention. But a majority of the people of the United States appear to be dissatisfied that this understanding was not made the fixed basis of agreement, in black and white. If this be not the understanding, and the promissory words of the London Times and other organs of popular opinion be only chaff, Great Britain has herself to thank for her conduct, and for the disaster that has befallen the negotiations.

On the other hand, the pretence of shallow, sensational writers, that the United States are bent on "the humiliation of England," is entirely without foundation. We are determined to "respect the rights of all nations, demanding equal respect for our own." We suppose it to be useless to proceed further in the negotiations until the British Government makes a formal concession of the validity of the so-called Alabama claims. If that concession be "humiliation," there is some meaning in this latter cry; but that can hardly be "humiliation" in a Government which appears to be voluntarily yielded by its people.

Affairs in Spain—The Provisional Government and the Cortes.

The aspect of affairs in Spain has slightly improved. There still exists great bitterness of feeling between the Republicans and the Provisional Government, which persists in excluding Republicans from any share in the administration. The discussions in the Cortes have recently been of the most violent nature, and charges of treachery, corruption and underhand dealing have been freely bandied about. The Republicans complain—and, as it seems to us, justly—of their total exclusion from office. The existing Ministry in Spain is in no way based upon the ordinary principles of Parliamentary government. It is essentially provisional and purely administrative, and intended only to carry on the necessary business of the country until the Cortes have finally determined upon the form of government to be adopted. Under these circumstances, it would be at least gracious in the Ministry to admit to their councils one of the Republican chiefs. Such a course would at all events tend to pacify the opposition, and would give the nation a guarantee that they were not using the power intrusted to them in order to advance the interests of any of the numerous aspirants to the throne, or even on behalf of the Monarchical Party generally.

Notwithstanding these dissensions and the violence of the recriminations exchanged between the two parties, there is evidence in the latest intelligence from Madrid of a determination on both sides that no difference of opinion shall be allowed to endanger the objects achieved by the Revolution. On the one hand, the Ministry has agreed, in deference to the wishes of the Republicans, to introduce a measure establishing the right of civil marriage, and on the other, the Republicans have pledged themselves, through one of the principal members of the party, to accept, and be bound by, the decision of the Constituent Cortes, whatever their own political desires might be. This is as it should be. If both parties will now act in good faith, we shall hear no more of the disturbances which have agitated the country since the overthrow of the Bourbon monarchy. The Ministry has done wisely in yielding at once to the demand for the right of civil marriage—the very first thing, be it remembered, that the Austrian people demanded after obtaining a constitutional Government. And the Republicans have done well in at once giving assurances that they will not, through unreasoning adherence to their own wishes, run the risk of plunging the country into anarchy, and, in reality, playing into the hands of some one of the rival claimants for the throne. Things certainly look better than they did, but we are still anxious to see some signs of a disposition on the part of the Cortes to come to a final settlement of the great problem before them. Now that the misunderstanding between the two parties has been removed, to a certain extent, at least, it is more than ever incumbent upon the leaders of the Ministry to press matters forward for a solution. The longer the delay, the greater the risk of fresh difficulties arising. We hope Marshal SERRANO and his colleagues will be prudent enough to seize the opportunity.

MINOR TOPICS.

We publish a note from Mr. CHARLES H. MARSHALL, one of the owners of the horror-ship James Foster. He is very severe upon us for the statements published in our columns setting forth the frightful cruelties of the officers of that vessel on the wretched passengers. But none of these accounts of the cruelties have come from us,—they have been merely the testimony and the evidence of the miserable victims themselves, as reported in the examination before the Commissioners of Emigration and the inquest before the Coroner's Jury. The proofs of the testimony are too visible and shocking to be doubted; and if the evidence has startled the community and aroused public indignation, the blame must fall on the dead and dying, bruised and beaten passengers.

The census recently taken by the British authorities in Northeastern India seems to have been far more particular and perfect than any census whose returns have ever been made public in Europe or America. In a population of 30,000,000, there have frankly registered themselves as beggars, 479,015; prostitutes, 26,806; eunuchs, 2,251; pimps, 321; flatterers for gain, 226; jesters, 851; astrologers, 1,123. We should like to see an equally frank and faithful census of any part of this country, or any of its harder cities—say, for example, Washington or Chicago.

Measures will be initiated to-night at the meeting of the American Geographical and Statistical Society, with the view of organizing a new Polar Expedition under the leadership of Dr. ISAAC HAYES. The former experiences of Dr. HAYES in the Arctic regions, and his ability and courage as an explorer, give great interest to the new movement now proposed.

St. Patrick was the gentleman who introduced Christianity to Ireland and drove out the snakes. It is also reported in the pathetic traditions of Ireland that he "lived with dacent people,"—which need not be doubted, since he himself was a "dacent" man, as well as a gentleman and a Christian. In view of all these circumstances, St. Patrick deserves to be honored by the whole human race; and therefore it is we learn with pleasure that many native Americans, as well as Germans, Frenchmen, Spaniards, Englishmen and Scotchmen, marched in the immense processions yesterday. St. Patrick will very surely, in course of time, become the patron Saint of America.

There is a painful rumor from the Plains to the effect that the gallant General CUSTER has been captured by Indians. The report states that he was surprised while on a scouting expedition. This would hardly be in keeping with the particularly wide-awake characteristics of the young cavalry leader, whom the rebels were never able to find napping, and we attach little weight to the report. Should it be so, however, the General will scarcely be allowed to escape, for he has, on several occasions, inflicted on the Indians such severe punishment that his life will fail to satisfy their revenge. But should harm come to him at their hands it will be difficult to restrain the soldiers of the frontier from taking summary vengeance whenever the opportunity offers. If the redskins have taken General CUSTER prisoner, and know when they are well off they will release him forthwith.

A rather remarkable mistake in the enrolling of a bill was the subject of a sharp debate in the House yesterday, in which those two sweet-tempered members, BUTLER and SCHENCK, were participants.

It will be seen that the lively debate of Tuesday on the Tenure-of-Office act in the Senate was resumed yesterday.

President GRANT has received from Buffalo a present of a pair of boots which he pronounces the "most elaborately finished" he has ever seen. It was shown some time ago that St. Louis had borne off the Paris palm for making coats, and now Buffalo bears off the palm for boots. But we believe that New-York has not, thus far, been beaten in hats. "Show me a man's hat," &c.

The Sultan of Turkey has given the widow of his late Grand Vizier a pension of $15,000 a year in gold, beside costly presents. Mr. SUMNER ought to quote this fact in his next speech in the Senate in favor of giving a small pension to the widow of President LINCOLN.

If the head of a department is responsible for the action of his subordinates, Postmaster KELLY's chances of reappointment to office are jeopardized materially by the carelessness of his employes. Twice during the past few days there have been picked up in the street bags of mail matter, which had been dropped from the wagons en route to and from the Post Office. Carelessness of so gross a character ought not to be tolerated. It is inexcusable.

The appointment of General PARKER as Indian Commissioner, if it should take place, would be a curious one, for the reason, as the Rochester Chronicle observes, that he is a descendant of the Chiefs of the Seneca nation, having the real Red-Indian blood in his veins. In that respect there would seem to be a fitness in the case; but whether the relationship would make him a better Commissioner than a mere carpet-bagger of the pale-face kind or not, it would be hard to say.

The course of the velocipedes does not run very smooth in some places—Newark for instance, where they are arrested for going on the sidewalks. In Rome one of them was the means of severely injuring an English lady and her two daughters, who were driving round the grounds of the Borghese palace, when the horse was frightened by the velocipede and the carriage upset. No more velocipedes will be admitted to that residence after the hour of noon.

There is no one thing in this great City so much strikes a stranger as the urbanity which distinguishes public officers, from the highest to the lowest, from the Mayor's office to the drivers of the hackney carriages. Singularly, too, there is a pleasing uniformity of language, a charming concert of terms. Go, for instance, to the Assessor's office to inquire about a mistake or correct an error; or indulge a not unnatural curiosity at the District-Attorney's office, why a nuisance complained of by a whole neighborhood has never been abated, but has apparently been pigeon-holed eight, nine, ten months ago—you meet a pleasant banter, a joking, chaffy merriment, which does not seem to justify the anathemas with which some men (surly persons, of course,) leave the office. They should emulate the equanimity of the horse dealer, who, in showing a mare, was kicked in the stomach, and though writhing with pain, had the presence of mind to cry, "Pretty playful creature"—but then, he wanted to get rid of the mare.

AMUSEMENTS.

Musical.

The "Prophet" was given last evening at the Academy of Music for the fourth time, and there was again a fine house, —full and fashionable in every particular. It is clear that there is a revival of the old penchant for Italian opera. Fashionable people, indeed, must have some entertainment which they may claim more or less specially as their own. Opera bouffe has been tried and found wanting. It follows then that the other school will inevitably regain such sway as it ever possessed, and, perhaps, more, from a healthy reaction. Mr. MARETZEK's season has been a curious one. MEYERBEER's music whenever played has invariably drawn good houses, but the simpler works of the Italian composers have been utterly ignored. Hence there have been nights of extreme brightness, and others when everything was sepulchral. On the whole, the manager, we take it, has prospered, and during the few remaining nights, may safely anticipate a continuance of good fortune. A few such houses as that of last evening would insure an opera company of vaster calibre.

A new arrangement has been effected with Miss CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG, who will play for three nights longer—appearing to-morrow night as Zerlina in "Don Giovanna." The cast includes the names of Mme. LA GRANGE, Miss MCCULLOCH, Signors ORLANDINI, RONCONI, LOTTI, BARILI, DUBREUIL.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

Mr. MAX STRAKOSCH has received a cable telegram announcing that the score of ROSSINI's Requiem Mass is on its way here. The copyright for this country has been purchased from his brother MAURICE by Mr. STRAKOSCH. It is expected that the work will excite much interest in Catholic circles, and, in fact, everywhere —for ROSSINI's genius was universal. It will be produced with all the care that is due to its distinguished author.

It is denied in the English journals that Mlle. NILSSON intends visiting this country—at all events for the present.

There is to be another concert in aid of Cuba at Irving Hall on Saturday evening. Mr. DE CORDOVA will lecture on the "Soldier," Mr. LEVY will play on the cornet, Mr. HARRY SANDERSON on the piano, and amateur talent will lend its valuable aid. Signor ALBITES is the conductor.

Mr. LEVY, the celebrated cornet player, will take his first benefit at Irving Hall on Thursday evening, the 24th inst. A host of talent has volunteered for the occasion.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. H. L. BATEMAN is suffering from a severe attack of diptheria—a complaint which is almost epidemic at the present time. His departure for Europe, which was to have been on board the Russia yesterday, has in consequence been postponed.

Mr. IGNATZ POLLAK, pupil of the celebrated STOCKHAUSEN, and an artist of unusual sentiment and tenderness, is about to leave our shores. He proposes to give a farewell concert prior to his departure. The entertainment will take place at Irving Hall on Friday (to-morrow) evening. Mr. POLLAK will be assisted by distinguished artists, and will, we trust, be greeted by a large audience.

The concert in aid of the Italian evening school for adults took place at Steinway Hall on Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance, and the enterprise, we hope, will be benefited. The programme was of a character to attract an audience on popular grounds, and to invite silence in every other way.

Theatrical.

The DAVENPORT Brothers announce a series of their well-known performances, to begin at Steinway Hall this evening.

Mdlle. JANAUSCHEK is to appear at the Academy of Music on the 29th of March, and for a week or two thereafter. Several new German dramas will be produced.

Mrs. W. J. FLORENCE is to have a benefit at Wood's Museum to-morrow night. "Thrice Married," and other entertainments of a similar and lively description, will be given. The last performance of "The Ticket-of-Leave Man" takes place this evening.

A HORRIBLE MURDER.

Discovery of a Mutilated Body at Spring Valley, N. Y.—The Remains Identified as those of a Peddler—Investigation by the Authorities.

From Our Own Reporter.

SPRING VALLEY, N. Y.,
Wednesday, March 17, 1869.

On Sunday evening last, at about 7 o'clock, as Mr. A. B. NOYES and two companions were proceeding by a short cut across-lots to the Methodist Church, in this town, their attention was attracted to an object like that of a human form extended upon the ground. At first it was supposed to be a scare-crow, but a closer investigation led to the horrible discovery that it was the lifeless remains of a human being. The startling intelligence was at once conveyed to the people assembled at the church for evening worship, and a large number soon repaired to the scene of the tragedy, and word was immediately sent to Dr. DANIEL LAKE, the Coroner. The body was found lying upon its back in an open field adjoining a piece of woods, distant perhaps one-quarter of a mile from the Spring Valley Railroad depot, and was that of an unknown man, evidently a Jew, of German extraction, and about 35 years of age. Upon the face lay a small, low-crowned, narrow-rimmed felt hat, of a light pearl color, with black ribbon and no binding, and without lining. The vest was made without collar, of gold-mixed woolen cloth, with mottled rubber buttons to match, having three pockets outside and two inside. The shirt was of white cotton material, with coarse linen bosom and collar. An under-vest or jacket of a gray-mixed fine worsted fabric was next to the person; this had white bone buttons, and a hemmed opening was made under each arm. The drawers were of a very fine twilled lead-colored cotton cloth. The socks were of fine worsted, of a fancy purple color, with fancy stripes or horizontal rings, and white toes. A pad about twelve inches long, and three wide, was tied to and upon the inner front surface of the left leg, as if to give symmetry and to conceal a defect of the limb, which is bent at this point. The pad is made of white cotton cloth inside and gray woolen cloth outside, and was stuffed with black cotton batting.

A pair of No. 5 calfskin seamless gaiters—evidently too large—covered the feet, which are very small and neatly shaped. The shoes were perfectly new, were pegged, and contained leather false or inner soles in each. In the front part of the soles of each shoe were ordinary No. 3 saddler's tacks thickly studded, as if to protect the soles from heavy toe-wear. A nearly new black silk necktie inclosed the collar, and a pair of imitation emerald plated sleeve buttons held the shirtcuffs.

The unknown victim must have weighed but little over 100 pounds; had small finely-shaped hands, feet and limbs; was five feet high; had dark straight hair, a light thin moustache, and portions of the teeth in the upper left jaw were false. The left leg was about one inch shorter than the right, was considerably bent between the knee and the ankle, with an outward curving. The ankle and upper foot bones had evidently once been dislocated or broken, and the foot turned outward. The right hip was larger than the left, as was also the body just above that point.

Dr. J. S. WIGTON, at the instance of the Coroner, examined the body, and describes the wounds as follows: "One commencing near the eyebrow is of a cruciform shape, and extends to near the top of the head. Another in the left temporal region, seems to have been done by some blunt instrument, as also does another similar wound at the angle of the lower left jaw. There is an incised wound on the back of the skull, and a punctured wound at the outer angle of the left eye. The right eye is entirely gone. Part of the lips are eaten off, as if by rats. The fingers are slightly lacerated, as if done in a defensive struggle."

The inquest was begun on Monday, and is being continued daily. The testimony of witnesses is, for the present, withheld from the public, for prudential reasons. From the fact that $35 and some papers were found on the body, it was at first thought that robbery was not the motive for the murder, but later developments give the case a different aspect. A clue has been obtained to the guilty party, and an important arrest will probably be made in a few hours. The head has been severed from the trunk of the body by Professor D. D. SMITH, M. D., of New-York. It is now in a jar of spirits in the Coroner's possession, awaiting identification. The victim is identified as a peddler who frequented this county, but his name and those of his friends are still undiscovered. The theory now advanced is that the deed was committed elsewhere, and the body conveyed here to elude detection. A Committee from the Beria-Beiroth Jewish Society have applied for the remains, but at present no burial will take place. The body is tenderly preserved, and will be given to them in due time. Professor CARNOCHAN, M. D., of New-York, is in town, and will examine the corpse to-morrow. The citizens throughout Rockland County are thoroughly aroused, and will pursue this investigation effectually. Messrs. WALTER S. SHUPE, and J. A. OVINGTON, of No. 7 Warren-street, New-York, are the prosecuting attorneys, and are continuing the case at the village hotel. Intense excitement agitates the town and county.

The New-York Appointments.

From the New-York Commercial Advertiser.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 17, 1869.

It is stated, on good authority, that Mr. FORD is off the slate for United States District-Attorney of the Southern District of New-York. His appointment was made out to be sent to the Senate, which leaked out the first Cabinet meeting, when it was tut imated by one of the members of the Cabinet that the appointment was not satisfactory to the Representatives from New-York State, and that he was unknown to the Bar or to the politicians.

Some discussion took place in regard to that and other appointments, unknown to the leading men of the party, when President GRANT said he would not press the appointment.

It is now said that General PLEASONTON has the inside of the track for Naval Officer, and that his name will be sent in at an early day.

HENRY A. LOW, late State Senator, I am informed, will be likely to be the fortunate man for United States District-Attorney. His chances are now regarded as the best.

I still adhere to the belief that MOSES H. GRINNELL will be appointed Collector of the Port.

Mr. Sumner's Forthcoming Speech.

Brom the Boston Advertiser.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, March 16, 1869.

Dispatches have been sent to New-York, and perhaps to other papers, giving a wrong idea of Senator SUMNER's speech on our relations with England. He takes high ground on the Alabama claims question, as was said in this correspondence two or three days ago, and strongly dissents from Mr. REVERDY JOHNSON's treaty, but there is nothing of a belligerent character in what he intends to say. On the contrary, the speech is in the interest of permanent peace. He means to show, so far as he can, what is the position of our country on the question at issue, to the end that a way may be prepared for a new treaty which will be acceptable to our people. The speech will probably be delivered in Executive session when the Alabama treaty is taken up for consideration, and it is believed that after its delivery the Senate will take measures to have it made public.

Capital Punishment in Maine.

The Lewiston Journal, in speaking of the work done by the Legislature of Maine at its recent session, says:

"Capital punishment is made peremptory, although the bill for the same was modified before it finally passed. As the law now stands, it is imperative upon the Governor to issue his warrant at the expiration of a year for the execution of prisoners under sentence of death, or to commute their sentence with the consent of the Council. A complete record of all capital trials is to be laid before the Governor and Council, in order that they may be able to form an intelligent opinion of the expediency of commuting the sentence."

A Candidate for the Throne Decided Upon—Religious Liberty Secured by the New Constitution—Serious Disturbances Between the Troops and the People.

MADRID, Wednesday, March 17.

During the sittings of the Constituent Cortes, yesterday, General PRIM, the Minister of War, announced that the Monarchists were prepared with their candidate for the throne. His name would be made public soon.

The Constituent Cortes has appointed four permanent committees to supervise the business of the Assembly.

It is said that the draught of the new Constitution, which is to be submitted to the Cortes, establishes complete civil and religious liberty, but retains Catholicism as the religion of the State.

Serious disturbances, growing out of the opposition of the people to military conscription, are reported in Andalusia. At Xeres and Montaro barricades were erected and there was some fighting between the people and the troops. In the latter place two men were killed and six wounded. No disorder has occurred in Cadiz.

Minister SAGOSTA has advised the Cortes not to enforce the conscription.

The members of the Cortes, without distinction of party, have offered their assistance and support to the Government to maintain public order at any cost.

The Oxford and Cambridge University Boat Race—Agitation of the Church Question.

LONDON, Wednesday, March 17.

The annual contest for the championship between the Oxford and Cambridge Universities eight-oared boat crews took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and resulted in a victory for Oxford by four lengths. The race, over a distance of about five miles, from Putney down the River Thames, was rowed in twenty minutes and six and a half seconds.

The extreme length of each boat was 56 feet 4 inches; the Oxford boat was 2 feet 2 inches wide, the Cambridge boat half an inch narrower, and both were built rather flatter on the floor than usual. The names, weights and colleges to which each man belongs are as follows:

Oxford—S. H. WOODHOUSE, University, 156 pounds; R. TABOURDIN, St. John's, 167 pounds; T. S. BAKER, Queen's, 178 pounds; F. WILLIAM, Exeter, 171 pounds; J. C. TINNE, University, 192 pounds; A. C. YARBOROUGH, Lincoln, 168 pounds; W. D. BENSON, Balliol, 163 pounds; S. D. DARBISHIRE, Balliol, 163 pounds; D. NEILSON, St. John's, 111 pounds, (coxswain.)

Cambridge—J. A. RUSHTON, Emanuel, 161 pounds; J. H. RIDLEY, Jesus', 163 pounds; J. W. DALE, St. John's, 168 pounds; F. J. YOUNG, Christ's, 176 pounds; W. F. MCMICHAEL, Downing, 172 pounds; W. H. ANDERSON, First Trinity, 159 pounds; P. H. MELLAR, First Trinity, 164½ pounds; J. D. GOLDIE, St. John's, 170 pounds; H. E. GORDON, First Trinity, 106 pounds, (coxswain.) The betting had been in favor of Oxford, and the interest was so great that thousands lined the banks of the river. The timely measures of the Government prevented a great concourse of people from accumulating on the bridges, and the race passed off without accident.

Large meetings have been held in Dublin and Belfast, at which petitions to the Queen against the disestablishment of the Irish Church were adopted.

Discovery of an Arson Plot in Memphis—Exciting Personal Discussion in the House.

MEMPHIS, Wednesday, March 17.

A prisoner in the Helena, Arkansas, jail yesterday overheard two negro prisoners discussing the assassination of General HINDMAN, and informed the jailor, who, together with the Marshal, took one of them out, and after charging the prisoner with the crime, the latter confessed to being one of nine negroes who had formed a conspiracy to burn the town of Helena to avenge the hanging of a negro last September for rape. Three of the party had gone to HINDMAN's house for the purpose of burning it, he having prosecuted the negro who was hung. One of the number seeing HINDMAN sitting at a window leveled a musket at him and fired, killing him. The others becoming frightened fled and abandoned the plot to burn the town. Five of the nine have been arrested, and are now in jail.

The Appeal's Little Rock special dispatch tonight says that resolutions deposing J. G. PRICE, Speaker, were introduced in the House to-day. Various charges were made against him, and an exciting personal discussion ensued, which was participated in by Lieutenant-Governor JOHNSON, the supposed author of the resolution, who spoke by permission. Mr. PRICE, in his paper this morning, dared members to offer such a resolution, and assailed JOHNSON. After a bitter discussion, the House adjourned without action on the resolution.

A Brutal Murder by Negroes—A New Light-Vessel.

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., Monday, March 15.

A horrible murder was committed on Sunday morning, about four miles from Hampton on the Yorktown road, the particulars of which are as follows:

A man named JOHN THOMAS who resides near Little Bethel, was aroused by some noise in the vicinity of his smoke-house, and got up to ascertain the cause. Fearing that it might be robbers, he took down his shot-gun and passed out of the back door. He advanced cautiously to the smoke-house, and there found three stalwart negroes busily engaged in prying open the door. As he came up near them he asked, "What are you doing there," when they all fired at him and then fled. The balls took effect, one in the face, one in the shoulder, and the third near the heart. The shots did not prove instantly fatal and medical assistance was immediately sent for; but when the doctor arrived he informed the family that THOMAS was mortally wounded, and could survive but a short time. He stated that the negroes were strangers to him and did not belong in that vicinity, though one of them he had seen before. They had extracted two teeth from a harrow, and were with these, endeavoring to effect an entrance, when they were disturbed in their nefarious designs. THOMAS was not more than ten feet from the party when he was shot, which accounts for the accuracy of their aim. He lingered until noon on Sunday, when he died. He leaves a wife and nine small children. No arrests have as yet been made.

On Saturday morning the body of a white male infant was found in an old cistern in Hampton, where it had been thrown by its unnatural mother after she had first strangled it. Marks of violence were found upon its neck. A young lady who is suspected of committing the crime has suddenly disappeared.

The Light-house Board will place a light-vessel at Windmill Point, Chesapeake Bay, some time during the week.

A Murder in Chicago—Destruction of a Railroad Depot—Veto by the Governor.

CHICAGO, Wednesday, March 17.

A dispute arose in JESSEL's auction-room, on Randolph-street, to-day, between a customer named CARMADY and JOHN JACOBS, one of JESSEL's auctioneers. CARMADY applied an epithet to JACOBS, when the latter drew a revolver and fired at him. The ball missed CARMADY, but entered the body of a young Norwegian named HANS ROBERTSON, passing through his lung and inflicting a mortal wound. JACOBS made his escape.

The depot of the Winona and St. Peter Railroad Company, at Wasica, Minn., was destroyed by fire this morning, causing a loss of about $10,000.

The following are the losses of insurance companies by fire in Anoka, Minn., on the 13th: Home, New-Haven, $2,000; Ætna, Hartford, $2,500; North American, Philadelphia, $1,000; Republic, Chicago, $3,000; Enterprise, Cincinnati, $500; Putnam, Hartford, $500. The fire was the work of an incendiary, and parties have been arrested.

Serious Railroad Accident in Massachusetts.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Wednesday, March 17.

The afternoon express train from Boston for New-York, via this city, had a narrow escape from a serious accident in consequence of a broken rail while going at full speed, one mile east of Palmer. The engine passed over the spot in safety, but two baggage and four passenger cars were thrown off and dragged twenty rods. One of the baggage cars was tipped bottom-side up. Fortunately, of the 250 persons in the train no one was seriously injured. The rail was broken by a large rock, which fell upon it from the ledge above, and then bounded to the other side of the road. The road will be clear for the passage of trains to-morrow.

Meeting of the Special Railroad Committee.

ALBANY, N. Y., Wednesday, March 17.

The Special Railroad Committee of seven held an important meeting at the Delavan House this afternoon. In the absence of the Chairman, Mr. BEMUS, from severe illness, Mr. ELY, of Broome County, presided. The affairs of the New-York Central were under consideration. HORACE F. CLARK and other prominent railroad officials were examined. It is understood that important testimony was elicited.

Discussion of the Constitutional Amendment—The State and Railroad Bill—The Town Bonding Bill—Report of the Railroad Investigating Committee, &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ALBANY, Wednesday, March 17, 1869.

The ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution came up as the special order in the Assembly this morning, and occupied the entire session. After the offering of a substitute for the report of the Committee on Federal Relations by Mr. JACOBS, Mr. HUSTED of Manchester, the Chairman of the Committee, opened the debate in a half hour's speech in which he gave a historical sketch of the services rendered by the negro in behalf of American liberty—commencing with the massacre in Boston, in 1770, continuing through the Revolutionary War, the war of 1812, and the war of the rebellion—and claimed that he had fully vindicated his right to all the privileges of American citizenship. Mr. HITCHMAN, of New-York, followed in opposition to the ratification of the amendment, which he characterized as a snare, a delusion, and a trap calculated to revolutionize the Government, centralize power, perpetuate the dominant party, and destroy the liberties of the people.

Judge CAMPBELL, of Otsego, next addressed the House in a very able and impressive speech in favor of the amendment. He sketched the history of the treatment of the negro in this country from the foundation of the Government, and showed how our Revolutionary fathers in this State placed him on the same footing as the white man in respect to suffrage, both white and black being at that time subject to a property qualification for suffrage. Their descendants had lifted the burden from the white man but had left it on the black, and the question now was whether, as the nation was about entering upon a new career of power and glory, it should continue a disability so contrary to the fundamental theory of our Government and calculated to perpetuate a strife that would inevitably last as long as any portion of the citizens of this country were deprived of their rights as men and as citizens. He thanked God that he had lived to see this day when he could cast his vote in favor of a measure of humanity, justice and right, and one calculated to promote a lasting peace among our people.

The discussion was continued by Mr. GLEASON, of St. Lawrence, and Mr. DAVIS, of Orange, in favor of the amendment, and by Mr. KIMBALL, of Albany, Mr. MOSELEY, of Kings, and Mr. PATRICK, of Chemung, in opposition thereto. The speeches would fill several columns of the TIMES, and would not prove very interesting if published.

The debate was not concluded at 2 P. M., the hour of adjournment, and is to be continued at the evening session, when a vote will probably be taken and the amendment ratified by between 20 and 30 majority.

THE STATE AID RAILROAD BILL.

Mr. CHACE's bill granting State aid to railroads at the rate of $4,000 per mile, was up for discussion in the Assembly last evening, and occupied nearly the entire session. The bill was advocated by Messrs. DAVIS, HEGEMAN, GLEASON, SELCREG, LYON, BERGEN, and one or two others, and opposed by Messrs. MILLER and KIERNAN. Considerable opposition was manifested among those who favored the bill to that section of it which exempts from State aid any road constructed parallel to and within eight miles of a road already in operation. This exemption would exclude from State aid the road now being built on the west side of the Hudson, from Albany to New-York, and accordingly Mr. DAVIS, of Orange, moved to amend the section so as to include that road in the benefits of the bill. The motion was lost. Mr. HEGEMAN then moved to strike out the whole provision relating to parallel roads, and pending this motion the Committee rose and reported progress. The indications are that the bill, with perhaps some slight amendments, will pass the Assembly by a large majority, but whether sufficiently large to override a veto, in case it should be returned by the Governor, as is said to be highly probable, may be doubtful.

THE TOWN-BONDING RAILROAD BILL.

Judge CAMPBELL's bill to enable towns and cities to bond themselves in aid of railroads, has been amended by consent so as to embody substantially the principle advocated by Mr. SELKREG. The bonds are made chargeable upon all the real and personal estate of the municipality issuing them, and the principal and interest is to be paid in like manner as other debts against the town. The Commissioners who issue the bonds are also required, within three years after their issue, to provide for the annual payment of at least three per cent. of the same, to constitute a sinking fund that will secure the liquidation of the bonds in twenty-five years.

With this amendment the bill will pass without much opposition.

THE SENATE RAILROAD INVESTIGATION.

The standing Railroad Committee of the Senate, which was directed at the beginning of the session to investigate the matter of the over-issue of stock by the Erie, Central, Hudson and other roads, to-day presented their report. It gives a summary of the testimony taken before the Committee, the most interesting part of which has already been published. The Committee could not agree as to the remedy to be applied to prevent further over-issues of stock by railroad companies, and so they accompany their report by three separate bills from different members of the Committee. The one signed by the Chairman, Mr. CAMPBELL, is the most distasteful to the railroad men, who claim that it completely ties them up so they cannot operate their roads under it.

The Senate were in Executive Session a short time to-day, but, so far as could be learned, no nominations beyond notaries public were sent in by the Governor. S.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

ALBANY, Wednesday, March 17.

EVENING SESSION.

Discussion on the Constitutional Amendment was continued this evening, Mr. HEGEMAN leading off in its favor, followed by Mr. JACOBS against. Mr. LABAU then made a forcible argument in favor of the ratification, and after an opposition speech from Mr. NACHTMAN, Mr. SELKREG closed the discussion, and made an eloquent and impressive speech, and moved the previous question. Mr. JACOBS' substitute was lost—yeas 47, nays 72. The report of the Committee on Federal Relations ratifying the Amendment was then adopted by a strict party vote. Yeas 72, nays 47. There were eight absentees, and one member, Mr. KEEGAN, was excused from voting.

The extraordinary bill introduced into the Senate this morning by Mr. PIERCE, of Kings, relative to the dividend of the Central Railroad, is regarded by some as a joke, by others as a strike, and by still others as a stock-jobbing manœuvre. You will get it in full in your regular report.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.......ALBANY, Wednesday, March 17.

The Railroad Committee, to whom was referred the subject of improper issue of stock and scrip by railroad companies, and to propose better protection to bona fide stockholders, presented a report and evidence in connection therewith.

Messrs. CAMPBELL and MORGAN proposed one amendment to the General Railroad law, Messrs. GENET and GRAHAM another, and Mr. PARKER a third.

The following is the bill of Messrs. GENET and GRAHAM;

SEC. 28. From time to time to borrow such sums of money as may be necessary for completing, furnishing, equipping and operating their railroad, and to issue and dispose of their bonds for any amount so borrowed, and to mortgage their corporate property and franchises to secure the payment of any debt contracted by the Company for the purposes aforesaid; and the directors of the Company may confer on any holder of any bond issued for money borrowed as aforesaid the right to cast, for every hundred dollars secured by such bond, one vote, and also the right to convert the principal due or owing thereon into stock of said Company at any time after the expiration of one year, and within a period not exceeding ten years from date of issue of bonds, under such rules as the directors may see fit to adopt. The privilege of conversion and time must be stated in the bond.

Section 9 of that law to be amended by adding the following words: "No railroad company shall have power to issue any certificates of indebtedness or profits, or stock, bonds, or other evidence of debt, as a bonus to stockholders, nor to pay any interest or dividends upon any such certificates heretofore issued without the consent of the Legislature be first obtained."

Mr. PARKER's amendment prohibits the issue of any stock with the intent, directly or indirectly, to affect the market price of the bonds or stock of the Company for speculative purposes. Any violation of this amendment is hereby declared a felony, punishable by a fine not exceeding $100,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both.

The President appointed as the Committee on the part of the Senate to investigate the Utica Lunatic Asylum Messrs. NICHOLS, TWEED and PARKER.

REPORTS.

To allow Hamilton Village to take stock in the Clinton Railroad.

On motion of Mr. CREAMER, the bills reported by the Railroad Committee regarding the issue of bonds, were made the special order for Tuesday next—yeas 14, nays 13.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

By Mr. CREAMER—Incorporating the Stuyvesant Savings Bank of New-York.

By Mr. GENET—To prohibit the use of steam on Second-avenue, New-York.

Mr. CREAMER moved that the Committee on Internal Affairs be discharged from further consideration of the Excise bill, and it be referred to the Committee of the Whole. Tabled.

Recess.

EVENING SESSION.

The following message was received from the Governor:

I return without my signature a bill entitled "An act to authorize the appointment, pro tempore, of the Board of Metropolitan Police, which was passed in the Senate March 9, 1869, and in the Assembly March 12, 1869.

By the law relating to the Metropolitan Police Board, certain specified acts can be performed only by the President of the Board. He has, I am informed, been unable for several months to discharge his duties, and is now absent from the State. To meet the difficulty caused by his sickness and absence, it is necessary that a new President, or a President pro tempore, should be appointed, and to that end this bill has been passed.

There are only three Commissioners besides the absent President, and it will be perceived, by a reference to the phraseology of the bill, that it requires the unanimous vote of three, not only for the adoption of a resolution appointing a President pro tempore, but of any resolution whatever. This is not right. When all the Commissioners are present a majority may adopt any resolution. When three only are capable of attending to their duties, the power to defeat a resolution for the appointment of a President pro tempore, or for any other purpose, should not be given to one of them. The Board can act only by resolution. If this bill becomes a law, either one of the three Commissioners can prevent any orders being made affecting the acts and duties of the Superintendent, the transfer or detail of patrolmen, the appointment of officers where vacancies occur, or the dismissal of members of the force for neglect of duty or misconduct. The bill does not, therefore, meet the difficulty occasioned by the absence of the President of the Board, by merely providing, as its title indicates, for the appointment of a President pro tem., but it adds to the embarrassments already existing by placing it in the power of one Commissioner to overrule his two associates on every question, and, in effect, to control and direct, with the aid of the Superintendent, the whole machinery and business of the Metropolitan Police Department.

JOHN T. HOFFMAN.

The message was laid over for consideration.

Senator PIERCE has introduced the following bill:

SECTION 1. It is hereby declared the duty of the directors and officers of the New-York Central Railroad Company to report annually the profits realized each year from its operations, so that stockholders and the public may have full knowledge thereof, and any directors of said Company who shall willfully conceal such information for his own private benefit or to defraud stockholders, or otherwise, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and shall forfeit his office. Any stockholder may apply to the Supreme Court for removal of any such director, and it shall be the duty of said Court to remove such director and take such other action in regard to said Company and its property as may be deemed necessary to protect the interests of stockholders.

SEC. 2. The New-York Central Railroad Company is hereby required to pay to the State Treasurer, to be applied to the reduction of the taxes of the State, all accumulated profits of said Company as reported by the Board of Directors, in the month of December last, over and above ten per cent. on the capital stock of the Company during the period in which such profits were accumulating, including dividends declared and paid on the stock of the Company in that time, and it is hereby made the duty of the Attorney-General to take the necessary legal measures to enforce this section, and to apply to the Supreme Court to appoint a receiver of the property of such Company, and to operate the road when the same shall be required for such purpose, but the powers of such receiver shall only continue during non-payment of said account required to be paid to the State Treasurer.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

By Mr. HALE—Relative to the procurement of abortions and of other like offences.

By Mr. TWEED—To incorporate the American Museum of Natural History of New-York.

By Mr. CREAMER—Relative to the acknowledgment of deeds and other instruments relating to real property.

By Mr. PEARCE—Relative to the New-York Central Railroad Company.

BILLS REPORTED.

Revising the charter of the Steam Ferry between Brooklyn and Mott Haven.

Incorporating the New-York Seamans' Association.

Incorporating the Harlem Yacht Club.

The bill supplying the deficiency in the State Prison appropriation was ordered to a third reading. Adjourned.

ASSEMBLY.

The Speaker announced as the Committee on the part of the Assembly to investigate the affairs and management of the State Lunatic Asylum at Utica, Messrs. J. C. B. DAVIS, GOULD, KENDALL, FLAGG and PATRICK.

The Speaker presented the annual report of the State Engineer and Surveyor.

The governors of the New-York Hospital, in response to a resolution of the Assembly, report that they have sold or leased the ground on which the hospital is located, and the buildings will soon be removed. The number of casualties, or cases of persons wounded in the streets and conveyed to the hospital during the year 1866, was 532; 1867, 438; 1868, 448. These numbers do not fairly represent the aggregate of casualties in the lower part of the City, which demand immediate surgical treatment. In the opinion of the Commissioners a reception ward should be immediately established in the lower part of the City, and proper arrangements made for the prompt conveyance of wounded persons. If the Legislature would direct a reception ward this Department would make arrangements with the Police Department to be informed by telegraph of every casualty, and dispatch a surgeon with ambulance to attend the same. The communication was referred to the Committee on Public Charities.

The House taking up the special order for the consideration of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution,

Mr. JACOBS presented as a substitute for the report of the Committee on Federal Relations:

Whereas, Pursuant to the authority vested in Congress the Fifteenth Article of the Constitution of the United States, an amendment has been proposed to said Constitution as follows:

Whereas, The avowed object of this proposed amendment is to secure the right of suffrage to the negroes and other inferior races; and

Whereas, The people of this State have, whenever a proposition to give persons of color the right of suffrage uniformly refused to amend their State Constitution so as to affect that result, last time by a majority of 140,479; and

Whereas, The present Legislature was not chosen at a time when the question of amending the Constitution, as proposed by Congress, was before the electors of any section of the country, so that we are in ignorance of the state of public sentiment relative thereto; therefore, be it

Resolved, That at the next general election held in this State the electors shall vote for or against the ratification of said proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, in order that the next Legislature may act upon the subject in accordance with the will of the people as expressed at the ballot-box.

The Constitutional Amendment was discussed at length by Messrs. HUSTED and CAMPBELL, of Otsego, GLEASON and DAVIS in favor, and Messrs. HITCHMAN, KIMBALL, MOSELEY and PATRICK against it. It was made the special order for the evening.

Mr. PATRICK introduced a resolution that:

Whereas, The last national platform of the Republican Party says that the question of suffrage in all loyal States properly belongs to the people in those States, and as this Assembly was not elected on any such issue, therefore the subject be deferred until the people are heard from.

Recess.

EVENING SESSION.

The special order was the consideration of the Fifteenth Amendment. Messrs. HEGEMAN, LA BAU and SELKREG spoke in its favor, and Messrs. JACOBS, MILLER, KEEGAN and NACHTMANN against it. A vote was first taken on Mr. JACOBS' amendment, which was lost—yeas 47, nays 72. The Amendment was then adopted by yeas 72, nays 47.

Adjoured.

Board of Education.

The New-York Board of Education met last evening, President LARREMORE in the Chair.

A communication was received from the Trustees of the Fifteenth Ward, suggesting a modification of the system of studies for females in Grammar Schools, so as to include business penmanship, commercial arithmetic, and book-keeping, after the model of the Paris educational system.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Books and Studies.

On motion of Commissioner WARREN, a committee of five was appointed to take measures at once to ascertain the changes in our public school system contemplated by the State Legislature, and to oppose the passage of any act which would tend to the destruction of the present system. The names of the members of the Committee are: Messrs. WARREN, DURYEA, LEWIS, BUCK and EURING.

It was resolved that the sum of $55,000 be appropriated for the purchase of four lots of ground, and the buildings thereon, situated on the southerly side of Fifth-street, between First and Second avenues, and known as Nos. 326 to 332 Fifth-street, as a site for a new school-house, for one Grammar and one Primary Department. The sum of $65,945 was also appropriated for rebuilding Primary School Building No. 13, in the Ninth Ward.

After transacting other business of a merely routine character, the Board adjourned until the 7th prox.

Fatal Railroad Accidents.

At about 7 o'clock last night JOHN NUNDSCHAUN, aged 9 years, who resided in One Hundred and Twenty-first-street, between First and Second avenues, was run over by Second-avenue dummy engine No. 7, at the corner of Second-avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-first-street, and was instantly killed. The body was removed to the Twelfth Precinct Station-house in One Hundred and Twenty-sixth-street, and the Coroner notified to hold an inquest. Coroner FLYNN will investigate the case this morning.

At 8 o'clock last evening, apparently a laborer, about 40 years, was run over at the foot of Thirty-fourth-street, East River, by car No. 80 of the Fourth-avenue line, and was instantly killed. The body was removed to the Morgue, and JOSEPH CLARK, the driver of the car, was arrested by the Twenty-first Precinct Police, and committed to await the action of the Coroner.

WILLIAM HENRY, a boy 4 years old, was found lying on the railroad track in De Kalb-avenue, near Broadway, Brooklyn, last evening, having been run over and his body nearly cut in twain by one of the De Kalb-avenue cars. The little fellow was conveyed at once to the house of Dr. TAITEMORE, in the neighborhood, but soon expired. His body was subsequently taken to the residence of his parents, in Conselyea-street, near Evergreen-avenue. Neither the number of the car nor the name of the driver are known. The cars at that point are light, and it is next to impossible for such an accident to occur without the knowledge of the driver.

Chase and Capture.

Yesterday afternoon a sneak thief entered the plumbing-shop of JOHN MONTGOMERY, in the basement of No. 424 Broome-street, and stole a deposit book, containing $16, with which he escaped. MONTGOMERY made a complaint at the Fourteenth Precinct Station-house. Officers MARTINOTTE and MULLIGAN found a man answering the description given at an early hour of the evening, at the Anson House. The man seeing the officers, accompanied by the complainant, ran, and was pursued up and down Broadway, and was finally captured at the corner of Broome-street. When taken to the Station-house, he gave his name as PHILIP HARDGRAVE, and said he was a wholesale liquor merchant at No. 55 Dey-street. Upon his person were found $840 in greenbacks, and a letter yet unopened addressed to GRIFFEN, who has gained some notoriety in connection with the Royal Insurance Company robbery. The prisoner was locked up, and will be arraigned before Justice DOWLING this morning.

Fire in Division-street.

At 7 o'clock last evening a fire broke out in the establishment of CHRISTOPHER HENDRICKS, manufacturer of artificial flowers, on the second floor of No. 41 Division-street. The flames were confined to the floor, and did a damage of $3,000 to stock, which was insured for that amount in various City companies. The stock of Mrs. G. W. ALLEN, milliner, on the first floor, was damaged by water $3,500, and was uninsured. The millinery stock of MARY MCMURRAY, on first floor of No. 41½ Division-street, was also damaged by water to the extent of $300, but was insured for $1,500 in the Bowery Insurance Company. The building is owned by J. MCGIBNEY, and is damaged $200, and is fully insured. The fire was caused by careless handling of matches.

The Detective Office.

The resignation of Captain JOHN S. YOUNG, Chief of the Detective Police, was yesterday transmitted to the Board of Police Commissioners. No action was taken, but Captain YOUNG does not anticipate that the resignation will be accepted. He believes that, on the contrary, the Board will insist upon a strict obedience to the order embodied in the resolution, and in case of his continued refusal to comply with that order will dismiss him from the force. Captain YOUNG will certainly not comply with the order, and thus the matter at present remains.

Aiken, South Carolina.

We have received a pamphlet from Mr. J. C. DERBY, which gives an account of the advantages of Aiken, S. C., and a list of property for sale in that neighborhood. It appears that Aiken is situated on the South Carolina Railroad, near the Georgia line, only sixteen miles from Augusta, Ga. It is situated on the water-shed between the Edisto and Savannah Rivers, at an elevation of 600 feet above tide-water, and appears to enjoy a climate of mild Winters and a Summer no hotter than our own. The peach and the grape, as well as other fruits, are cultivated with great success; and extensive beds of fine kaoline are found in several directions round the town. The residents are anxious to secure an influx of Northern residents, and promise them good society, peaceable and pleasant existence, and give them their choice of buying at small cost quite a variety of houses and farming tracts, both inside and beyond the corporate limits.

Many New-Yorkers have already gone down to Aiken and invested there; some for the more genial climate, which is said to be specially favorable for persons with delicate lungs, owing to the mild and equable, but bracing atmosphere, and the porous soil. To those who wish to settle South, it may be advantageous to inspect this locality, where the prices for land sound quite low. Of course, anybody who should buy without looking for himself would do so simply on speculation.

Parties who are interested can procure Mr. DERBY's pamphlet by addressing J. C. DERBY, Box No. 1,439 Post Office, and inclosing its cost, thirty-five cents.—Commercial Advertiser.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

The sales yesterday were very light, but the attendance quite good. The market was not as firm as on Tuesday, and the demand not as great. This may perhaps be accounted for by the fact that there were no very large pieces of property offered, nor any that were particularly desirable. Several dwellings and stores were sold and brought very fair prices, but they were scattered and not of the class to attract general interest.

The Brooklyn property sold by Messrs JOHNSON & MILLER called together a fair number of persons, but hardly so large a crowd as usual. The bidding, though, was spirited, and the prices brought were generally satisfactory. The day was in every way a light one; the fact that it was St. Patrick's Day possibly had some effect, and it is quite probable that some of the auctioneers omitted having sales on that account. It cannot, therefore, be taken as a fair indication of what the market will yet do, and should be considered as a sort of off day.

The indications, though slight as they were, seemed to confirm the ideas already expressed in this column, that country building lots, when convenient to the City, and desirable pieces of business property, are now most readily disposed of.

Small lots, where moderate buildings may be erected, always find a good market, and the demand has at no time been as great as at present. Well situated and substantial stores, if located in business neighborhoods, are also steadily increasing in value.

In the matter of comfortable and convenient home lots, New-Jersey now has the advantage. The trains running from Jersey City to the numerous delightful little places within an hour's ride from New-York are very frequent and quite prompt. Communication is much easier and more certain with these places than with other otherwise equally desirable places on this island, or on the line of New-York railroads. It is scarcely creditable to the enterprise of a City so great as our own, but the fact remains that means of communication with places in an adjoining State are more reliable, more frequent, and in many ways more agreeable than within our own borders. The opening of the Perth Amboy and Woodbridge Railroad has greatly improved the town of Woodbridge, located on the line of the New-Jersey Railroad, and about twenty-two miles from New-York. The value of property has consequently materially increased, and there is considerable activity in real estate transactions.

The new road has opened up a large tract of valuable sites for building purposes, and given considerable impetus to manufacturing and other enterprises. There are many other equally desirable places in New-Jersey, and there are very many others located in this State which are quite as desirable, and quite as convenient to this City, and which are yet to be brought prominently before the public and improved. Perhaps as these improvements are made the railroad companies will begin to show some little enterprise, and may be induced to benefit themselves by benefiting the towns on the lines of their respective roads.

To-day Messrs. MULLER, WILKINS & Co. will sell thirty-eight building lots, situate on First-avenue, Fiftieth and Fifty-first streets, being part of the Beekman Tract. The property is surrounded by first-class improvements, is eligibly located, and is sold with restrictions against nuisances. Also, the two lots and buildings Nos. 33 and 35 Greene-street, the five-story store and lot No. 359 Broadway, running through to No. 71 Franklin-street, and the three-story brown-stone house and lot No. 372 Pacific-street, Brooklyn.

Messrs. BLEECKER & Co. will, under direction of GEORGE P. NELSON, referee in partition of estate of Alderman WM. TAYLOR, sell six houses and lots on Seventh-avenue, near Thirty-sixth-street; three houses and lots Nos. 313, 315 and 317 Houston-street, and No. 173 Attorney-street; ten lots on First-avenue, between One Hundred and Twentieth and One Hundred and Twenty-first streets; seven lots on One Hundred and twenty-first and One Hundred and Twenty-second streets, between First and Second avenues, and other valuable pieces of improved and unimproved property, belonging to the same estate. The same firm will sell the property on Forty-second, Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets, known as the Collyer Ship-yard.

Messrs. E. H. LUDLOW & Co. will sell the four-story marble-front store and lot No. 94 Reade-street, and one lot on East Ninety-sixth-street, near Fifth-avenue.

Messrs. JOHNSON & MILLER will have their usual sale of Brooklyn property. Other minor sales will also take place.

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE—AT GREEN'S FARMS, NEAR Southport, Conn., the property long known as the Taylor House, capable of accommodating 75 guests; kept for more than thirty years as a Summer resort by H. C. and E. J. Taylor; the house is in good order, and will be sold with the furniture and all things necessary for the continuance of the business. For particulars, terms, &c., apply to HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine-st.

FOR SALE—AT NEWARK, N. J., COUNTRY residence; one acre land; house 14 rooms, gas, two ranges, furnace, hot and cold water; barn and outbuildings.
PHILO W. SMITH,
No. 201 Pearl-st., New-York.

A FARM OF 200 ACRES AT STAMFORD, Conn., 30 miles from New-York; good buildings and goodland. Price $16,000. JOHN S. PIERCE, No. 106 Broadway, corner Pine-st.

A HOME FOR ALL—$1,200 TO $50,000. DEscriptive list of houses at Elizabeth and vicinity sent free. J. M. MEEKER, No. 78 Cedar-st., New-York, and No. 223 Broad-st., Elizabeth, N. Y.

FARM ON LONG ISLAND FOR SALE—180 acres; apple and peach orchard. Price $6,000. The owner can be seen for two days, from 9 to 3 o'clock, at No. 27 Front-st.

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT, ON STATEN ISLAND—A large brick house, Italian style, with ten acres of land; hot and cold water through the house, with gas and all modern improvements; green-house and stables. The grounds are laid out with shrubbery, forest trees, and abound with the choicest fruits. These premises are among the finest on the Island, commanding a beautiful view of the Bay, Hudson and East Rivers, and situated at Clifton, about five minutes' walk from the ferry. Inquire of C. BAINBRIDGE SMITH, No. 115 Broadway.

HOTEL FOR SALE ON LONG ISLAND.—Situated on the Peconic Bay, at New-Suffolk, town of River Head; 2½ acres; splendid boating, fishing and bathing; house is capable of accommodating 60 boarders; finely located on an eminence within 600 yards of the water, with an excellent view of the entire bay; accessible by railroad twice a day and steamboat thrice a week; boat lands at the dock near the house; has done a first-rate business with Summer boarders for the past twenty years; no season but more have applied than could be accommodated; the country around for twenty miles is unsurpassed for splendid driving, roads being hard and level; good stable and cattle arrangements; this is certainly an excellent opportunity for an enterprising business man or woman to make money; possession immediately; if taken before the 1st of May will be sold at a bargain; price $8,000; half mortgage. Apply to J. A. BABCOCK, No. 42 John-st., New-York.

FOR SALE—ONLY TWO MILES EAST OF Brooklyn, and seven miles from the New-York City Hall, 160 acres of the most desirable land ever offered; it is all high, warm and dry, under a high state of cultivation, and easy of access by four railroads; this property is beautifully situated for residences for parties desiring to escape the high rents of the City, and its nearness to New-York makes it a most valuable plot for cutting up into city lots. Capitalists desiring to purchase such property will find it to their advantage to examine this at once; its vicinity to New-York, its accessibility and the natural advantages of the ground, render it perhaps as safe and valuable an investment, at the price, as can be found within twenty-five miles of the City. It will be sold either in one plot or several, as may be desired. For particulars, &c., apply to J. H. STURTEVANT, No. 19 Broad-st., Room No. 18.

TO LET—SIXTY ACRES OF SUPERIOR gardening land, at Middle Village, only five miles from New-York City, with all the necessary outbuildings, consisting of a large house, barn, carriage-house, ice-house, a stone stable, 150 feet long, 50 feet wide, 2½ stories high, with walls 2 feet thick; a wooden stable nearly the same size, a large stone potato vault and a stone cistern, 20 feet by 10, and 10 feet deep. The land is under a high state of cultivation, and for gardening or farming purposes cannot be surpassed. The whole would make a superior place for a large brewery, on account of the buildings. The property will be rented for one or five years, in parcels or in one plot. For particulars apply to S. A. MILLS, No. 19 Broad-st., New-York, Room No. 18.

ATTENTION! ALL WANTING FARMS.—CHEAP FARM AND FRUIT LANDS, VILLAGE LOTS, WATER POWERS FOR MANUFACTURING,
for sale at Bricksburg, Ocean County, New-Jersey, 44 miles from New-York, on railroad to Philadelphia. Soil fine loam, superior for all crops. Country just rolling enough for beauty and utility. Climate mild and proverbially healthy. Water soft and pure. No fever and ague. Sold only to actual settlers, on easy terms. Price per acre, $25 and upward. For circulars and maps, sent free, address R. CAMPBELL, No. 153 Broadway, New-York, or D. W. BRIGHAM, Agent, Bricksburg.

FOR SALE—AT LONGMEADOW, MASS., four miles from Springfield, a fine country seat; six acres of choice land, with a handsome modern-build brick house, slate roof, with 13 (mostly large) rooms; barn with stable, carriage and shop-room, arranged in good order; centrally located, in the immediate vicinity of church, post office, schools, &c.; on high ground, with fine view of Connecticut River and Valley and the Berkshire Hills; abundance of fruits of all varieties; a pair of fancy matched horses, also, for sale by the owner, to be seen at the Massasoit Stables, Springfield, Mass. This place is offered low. For particulars and directions about visiting the place apply to HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine-st.

FOR SALE.—TO A FAMILY DESIROUS OF procuring an elegant private residence, the Alden Place, at Newburg, on the Hudson, is offered for sale at a low price; the house is new, built of brick, 40x40, 2½ stories and basement, in cottage style, with piazza; grounds handsomely laid out in fruit, shrubbery, and flowers; on high ground, commanding a magnificent view of the Hudson and surrounding country; within fifteen minutes' walk of railroad and steamboat, and five minutes of schools and churches; immediate possession; terms very liberal. For further particulars and photographic views apply to JOHN M. HOOD, No. 114 Water-st.

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.—FOR sale, a tract of land containing 80 to 90 acres, situated on the line of one of the leading railroads in New-Jersey, about 24 miles from New-York. Healthy climate, good soil, splendid prospect, and a great diversity of surface, containing woodland, ponds and living streams. It is within half a mile of the railroad depot, and is in all respects admirably situated for building purposes. Address M. T., Box No. 162 Times Office.

FAIRFIELD, CONN., ½ MILE FROM depot, fronting Mill Plain Green, surrounded by first-class improvements, the residence, with six acres of land, of Henry S. Thorp, deceased; the house is 40x42, with 8 ft. piazza on three sides, and large extension; substantially built by day's work, filled in with brick to the eaves; has modern improvements; location delightful, for healthfulness not surpassed; within short drive of Fairfield beach. Inquire of JAS. H. THORP, No. 163 William-st., where photograph of the property may be seen.

AT NEWARK, N. J.—FOR SALE, A healthy and cheerful residence, adjoining the James R. Sayre estate, No. 235 Orange-st. House contains nine finished rooms, also two attic rooms, with water up and down stairs; the house is built in the best manner, gas, heater, good closets and store-room; cemented cellar; lot 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, with fruit trees, grapevines, strawberry vines, &c. The property is offered for sale on account of owner leaving the City. Price, $8,000; half can remain on mortgage; will sell furniture if desired. Apply on the premises.

COUNTRY RESIDENCE FOR SALE.—A large, airy house, with lawn, kitchen garden, stables, &c., &c.; well shaded and stocked with choice varieties of fruit, with one to twelve acres of land, as may be desired; located in New-Jersey, 25 miles from this City, and is within 300 feet of railroad depot. A man doing business in the City can live there without being obliged to keep a horse. Address JOHNSON, Box No. 163 Times Office.

FOR SALE AT NEWARK, N. J.—A three-story brick and stone house with extension; 8 bedrooms, and all modern conveniences; three minutes from railway station and 45 from Broadway; a small stable in rear. Price $19,000; terms easy; possession immediately.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

J. Johnson, Jr., Auctioneer.
PEREMPTORY SALE
Of the balance of the
VAN MATER ESTATE,
Consisting of
FIVE HUNDRED DESIRABLE LOTS
AT MASPETH,
By JOHNSON & MILLER, Auctioneers,
On THURSDAY, March 25, 1869,
At 12 o'clock M., at the
EXCHANGE SALESROOM,
No. 111 Broadway, New-York.

CLERKS, MECHANICS, and others of small means, wishing to purchase lots and build themselves homes, will find the
VAN MATER PROPERTY
the best suited to their wants of any that has been offered this Spring—and should not fail to make a thorough examination of every lot before the sale. Do not forget that is not a new place; there are over a hundred houses, stores, hotels, &c., on the lots of this estate, already sold.
SEVENTY PER CENT. CAN REMAIN THREE YEARS.

MASPETH

A new Methodist Church has just been finished on Perry-av., and a new Public School is being built on the corner of Perry and Cleremont avs.

Maspeth is much nearer the business part of New-York than Newtown, East New-York, Flatbush, Bay Ridge or Yorkville, being only a little over to 34th-st., 23d-st., 10th-st., Houston-st., Grand-st., James-slip and Roosevelt-st.
THREE MILES FROM THE FERRIES
THE TRACK IS LAID
FOR THE NEWTOWN AND MASPETH HORSE RAILROAD, from Grand and North 2d-st. ferries, through Maspeth-av., in front of the property, on which cars will, probably, be running early in the Summer.
THE DE KALB-AV. RAILROAD from Fulton ferry, has a charter for an extension to Newtown, also passing through Maspeth-av.

A new road is now being built to Newtown, crossing the property now offered, on which it is proposed to build a horse railroad.

MASPETH is located between the South Side and Flushing Railroads, being about half a mile from Winfield and Fresh Pond, and the Van Mater property is only a few hundred feet from Maspeth stations on the Flushing and South Side railroad.

Being just outside the City limits, the taxes are nominal, amounting to less than fifty cents each lot, per annum.

These lots will be sold for lower prices than are being paid for lots no better located at East New-York, a mile and a half further from the ferries, and they will be worth more than the East New-York lots as soon as the horse cars are started.

To reach the property take the North 2d or Grand-st. cars from either of the Williamsburg ferries to Bushwick, and there take the Maspeth and Newtown stage; or, take the Flushing Railroad, leaving James-slip at 7, 9:30, 11:30 A. M., 2, 5 and 6 P. M.; or 34th-st. at 6, 7:15, 9:45, 11:45 A. M.; 2:15, 5:15, 6:15, 7:40, 10:30 P. M., to Maspeth Station.

Returning, leave Maspeth at 5:53, 7:08, 9:13, 11:13 A. M.; 1:13, 3:43, 6:13, 7:31, 9:55 P. M.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Grand Parade of Military and Civic Organizations.

The Streets Blockaded by Enthusiastic Spectators.

Dinners, Public Meetings and Speeches in the Evening.

How the Day was Observed in Other Cities.

A genuine sunburst glorified the memory of Ireland's patron saint yesterday. It was a magnificent Spring day, and no one who was interested in the occasion had any excuse for failing to turn out. The Irish are not generally backward in coming forward on St. Patrick's Day, even when the weather is bad, as it usually is. Yesterday they were out in force, and as a demonstration that they are decidedly numerous in this City, the procession was a success. It was a success, too, in every other respect, and, what is especially creditable. in view of the disturbances of former years, the men in the ranks were quiet and well-behaved, and did the designated marching in an orderly manner from Tenth-street, down Second-avenue, through Second-street, the Bowery and Chatham-street, the Park, where it was passed in review before the Mayor and the Common Council, through Broadway, Union-square, Fourteenth.street, Sixth-avenue, Thirty-fourth-street, Second-avenue, Twenty-third-street, First-avenue and Eighth-street, to the Cooper Institute, where it was dismissed. The procession began to move at 12:45 P. M. It was under the command of THOMAS DONNELLY, Grand Marshal, assisted by thirty-two special aids. First came the Sixty-ninth Regiment, under the command of Major STACOM, followed by a battalion of Fenians in arms. Then followed the civic societies in the following order:

Ancient Order of Hibernians, in four divisions; open barouche, drawn by four horses, containing Judge CONNOLLY, Police Commissioner BRENNAN and Father McALEAR; 'Longshoremen's Society; Quarryman's United Benevolent Society; Laborers' Society, in five divisons; St. Bridget's Mutual Benefit Society; company of cadets; Roman Catholic Benevolent Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Brooklyn, E. D.; St. James' R. C. T. A. B. Society; St. Peter's R. C. T. A. B. Society; Immaculate Conception T. A. B. Society; Transfiguration R. C. T. A. B. Society; Young Men's St. James' R. C. T. A. B. Society; St. Gabriel's R. C. T. A. B. Society; St. Columba's R. C. T. A. B. Society; St. Bridget's R. C. T. A. B. Society; Young Men's Immaculate Conception R. C. T. A. B. Society; St. Bernard's R. C. T. A. B. Society; Father Mathew U. B. T. A. B. (Parent) Society; Father Mathew U. B. T. A. B. Society, Branch No. 1; Young Men's Father Mathew U. B. T. A. B. Society, Branch No. 1; Father Mathew U. B. T. A. B. Society, Branch No. 2; Father Mathew T. A. B. Society, No. 2, of New-York; Father Mathew T. A. B. Society, No. 3, of New-York; Father Mathew T. A. B. Society, No. 5, of New-York; Young Men's Father Mathew T. A. B. Society, No. 8, of New-York.

There were forty-three bands of music in the procession, and many open carriages, each drawn by four horses. The procession was an hour and a quarter in passing the City Hall.

Mayor HALL, while reviewing the procession, was dressed in a suit of green, made especially for the occasion. He wore a fancy green cravat and carried in his hand a bouquet largely composed of green leaves.

The throng in the streets through which the procession passed, was immense, and was, of course, principally composed of Irish women and children whose fathers, brothers, husbands or sweethearts were a part of the pageant. The female help sallied forth at an early hour in order to procure eligible positions for viewing the evolutions of the sons of Erin. Breakfast things were left unwashed, and clothes that happened to be in the tubs remained there all day. Many a family was compelled to dispense with attendance for the day, simply because there was no help for it.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

KATY CREGAN, a little girl residing in Eighty-second-street, corner of Madison-avenue, came down to the City Hall Park to see the procession. Just as it began moving through the Park, the girl happened to be in the front line, and the crowd behind her pushing her forward, she was propelled into the space reserved for the procession. A brutal policeman struck the child on the forehead with his club, and she was felled senseless and bleeding to the ground. Some more considerate officer carried her into the City Hall Police Station-house, where her wound was dressed. Fortunately her hurt did not prove to be of a very serious character, and she was sent to her home. Owing to the crowd and confusion it was impossible to get the name or even the Precinct of the officer who thus disgraced the Police Force.

Detective DUNN, of the Sixth Precinct, being on the look-out for thieves while the procession was passing through City Hall Park, saw two men, giving the names of JAMES WRIGHT and CHARLES CLARK, in the act of picking the pocket of an old man named DANIEL LYSAGHT. Both were arrested.

While the procession was moving through the City Hall Park DENNIS DALY, of No. 17 James-street, Brooklyn, was ordered by Officer BURFORD, of the Fourth Precinct, to move on, but instead of doing so he turned upon the officer, snatched his club from him and struck him a violent blow on the head. At this juncture several officers rushed up to the assistance of BURFORD, and JOHN McCARTY, a friend of DALY, took part in favor of the latter, and a short but fierce fight ensued. In the end DALY and McCARTY were overpowered, after having received severe cuts, and were locked up in the Oak-street Station-house.

The Knights of St. Patrick.

The banquet of the Knights of St. Patrick took place in the evening at the Astor House. The spacious dining-room was decorated in a manner becoming the occasion. Around the walls were conspicuous the names of eminent Irish statesmen—CURRAN, EMMETT, BURKE, FITZGERALD, GRATTAN and others. Familiar mottoes also attracted attention. The culinary preparations were under the direction of the well-known caterer, ALEXANDER STETSON, whose judgment concerning the edibles needs no comment. At about 7 o'clock the dinner began. An hour was spent in the feast, when the tables were uncovered and the wines were brought on.

The toasts were then given by President JOHN H. HARNETT, who responded to the first:

> The American Republic and Chief Magistrate, the President of the United States.

He recapitulated the history of St. Patrick and wished a happy celebration of the anniversary for many years to come.

Letters were then read from distinguished guests whose business engagements would not admit of their presence. Governor HOFFMAN wished for the Society prosperity in the future as in the past. Letters from JAMES W. GERARD and General GEORGE B. McCLELLAN were of the same import, and met with great applause from the assemblage.

Rev. JOHN BARRY responded to the second toast—"The Festival of St. Patrick"—with some pleasant remarks, which met great applause from the audience.

Captain W. J. LYONS replied to the third toast, "The Irish People at Home."

Numerous other toasts were given and responded to by Mayor HALL, Judge McCUNN and others.

Among the distinguished members of the organization present were President Harnett, Judge Quinn, John Mullallay, Judge McCunn, Judge Dodge, Hon. Thomas Pitman, Rodger A. Pryor, General Hillyar, Commissioner Brennan, Gerald Lalor, Dr. Connolly, Patrick Cuff and others. The banquet was closed with a toast to "Old Ireland," drank in genuine Irish whisky by all present.

The Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

The eighty-fifth anniversary dinner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick came off with éclat, in the evening, at the St. James Hotel, EUGENE KELLY, Esq., in the chair.

An elegant repast, including all the delicacies of the season, was laid for about sixty covers, in the usual good style of the St. James. Among the gentlemen present were the Presidents of the Societies, Judge DALY, Mr. PIEN, son of the member of Parliament for Dublin, and J. D. BARBOUR, of Belfast, of the well-known thread-house, and others.

A string band was in attendance and discoursed sweet music. The utmost good feeling prevailed, and, after justice had been done to the eatables and the cloth removed. A number of toasts were drank and appropriately responded to.

The Shamrock Association.

In the evening, the second annual supper and ball of the St. Patrick's Shamrock Association took place at Brevoort Hall, in Fifty-fourth-street, near Third-avenue, and was much enjoyed by the large party present. The Association is simply for the purpose of celebrating the day, and has no other aim. It has seventy-five members, who have been culled partly from the Knights of St. Patrick and the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. Mr. B. F. McCAHILL is President. Toasts were drank at the supper, and appropriate speeches were made.

Fenian Meeting at Cooper Institute.

A grand demonstration occurred in the evening, at Cooper Institute, under the auspices of the Fenian Brotherhood. The hall was well filled, a goodly proportion of the audience being ladies. The platform was very handsomely draped with American and Irish ensigns. At the back of the President's chair was an escutcheon bearing a seated figure of Erin leaning sadly over the harp, with the Irish wolf-dog at her feet wistfully regarding her. At the top of the festoon was a placard with the following inscription:

> IRISHMEN AND LADIES! The times are past for street shows. It ill becomes men to act like children. Street shows may amuse children; they fail to interest men who have a purpose in life. An Irishman has one great purpose; to him it is a life-long labor of love—the elevation of the land of his birth by every and by all means. No matter if we were citizens twenty times over of this or any other Republic, yet we are Irishmen. Ireland first! Ireland last!! How shall we raise her? Employ the money that you spend on Patrick's Day in empty display for some practical use for Ireland!!! We owe all to dear Erin.

Underneath was a framed and glazed engraving containing portraits of ALLEN, LARKIN and O'BRIEN, the persons who suffered death at Manchester.

Mr. JOHN KOHLER presided at the piano; and Holwell's "National Brass Band" was also in attendance, and performed during the evening.

General JOHN O'NEILL, President of the Fenian Brotherhood, took the chair, and in opening the proceedings said he did not propose to inflict much eloquence or rhetoric upon them. He had been recently speaking in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, &c.; it was necessary for him to speak in those places; but to-night he should detain them with a very few words. There was only one kind of speech-making that he liked to indulge in, and it was the only language that would reach the tyrant; it was the eloquence which flashed from the cannon's mouth. [Immense applause.] That was the sort of talking he liked to indulge in, because he believed it was the only sort of talking that England would ever pay any attention to. England had never listened to the eloquence of the Irish patriots unless their words were backed by cold steel. [Applause.] And England will never pay any attention to Irish petitions or Irish prayers until the Irish people are prepared to back up their petitions with bayonets. It was because he believed the audience realized this fact that he came to assist them in placing breech-loaders or muzzle-loaders in the hands of the "Boys in Green." Then the petition of the Irish people will not only be heard, but command most serious attention. It was supposed by some that the disestablishment of the Irish Church would satisfy Irishmen, but this was a great mistake. The Lord Bishops were not the most objectionable Lords in Ireland. [Applause.] It is the landlords that Irishmen are after, and they would never rest satisfied while a single landlord claims to own the soil of Ireland. England would like to dupe the nations into a belief that the Irish disaffection was a Catholic disaffection. [Cries of "No! no!" and applause.] The Irish Catholics would fight and die, if need be, for justice to Irish Protestants. [Great applause.] The Fenians were not fighting for any particular religion or for any particular sect; but for an Ireland free and independent, where the whole Irish people may kneel down and worship God according to the dictates of their conscience. [Immense applause.] To say that the Fenian Brotherhood was got up in the interests of Catholicism was a slander, and he would here brand it as a lie. [Great applause.]

Colonel BYRON recited a humorous poem, written by Mrs. THOMAS FRANCIS MEAGHER, and sent to the late General while he was commanding the Irish Brigade.

Mrs. MINNIE GEARY (FITZPATRICK) sang the "Harp that once through Tara's Halls"—and being vociferously encored, gave "Kathleen Mavourneen" with great feeling and expression.

The succeeding exercises consisted of addresses by Messrs. HYNES and MORRISON, with performances on the piano and flute by Messrs. McCARROLL and KOHLER.

Governor HOFFMAN and Mayor HALL sent letters to the Committee expressive of regret that other engagements prevented them from attending the meeting.

Lectures in the Evening.

J. E. BURKE, Esq., of this City, lectured, by invitation, in the evening in the hall of St. Bernard's Catholic Church, Thirteenth-street, near Ninth-avenue, on "St. Patrick, his Mission, and the Land of his Glory." There was a large and appreciative audience present. The lecturer, after reviewing the life and labors of St. Patrick, and showing how Ireland had retained the Catholic faith in spite of the persecutions to which she had for centuries been subjected, alluded to the influence of the Irish population in America, whom, he contended, were so thoroughly identified with us in temper and in feeling us to be naturally and easily blended with us into one race. After reverting to the services rendered by prominent Irishmen in every walk of life in this country, Mr. BURKE closed by expressing the hope that but few more anniversaries of Ireland's patron saint would roll around before Ireland will be free. The proceeds of the lecture are to be devoted to the benefit of St. Bernard's new church.

Rev. WM. H. ANDERDON also lectured in the evening at St. James' Church, James-street, on "The Disciples of St. Peter." He ran over the list of the most distinguished of the Irish saints, making brief but interesting mention of their deeds. He spoke especially of St. Patrick and his miracles. The house was well filled, and the lecture delighted the audience.

The Day in Brooklyn.

The weather being just what was wanted, the sons and daughters of Erin were early on the streets, and, as a general thing, presented a creditable appearance. The women were in their best attire, and loads of jewelry, low-priced and high-priced, plain and glittering, neat and gaudy, substantial and tawdry, decked the dresses. Symmetry not being one of the elements of St. Patrick's Day celebration, and not being expected, nobody looked for it, and nobody was disappointed. Excellent spirits prevailed, and the best of order was maintained throughout the day. There were reunions of the gentler representatives of St. Patrick, loud and hearty in their congratulations as to good looks, good health and prosperous appearance generally. But the feature of the day was the procession. Mr. JOHN WALL was the Grand Marshal. The line included the Ancient Order of Hibernians, eleven societies, numbering altogether 900 men; St. Ann's Roman Catholic T. A. B. Society, with 100 men; St. James' R. C. T. Society, with 200 men; the Father Matthew T. A. B. Society, No. 2, with 200 men, and a company of cadets numbering 50; Father Matthew T. A. B. Society, No. 1, with 200 men and a company of cadets; St. Patrick's R. C. T. A. B. Society, with 80 men; Young Men's F. M. T. A. B. Society, No. 1, with 50 men; St. Paul's R. C. T. A. B. Society, with 250 men, and 50 cadets; Assumption R. C. T. A. B. Society with 80 men and a company of cadets; The Father Matthew T. A. B. Society, No. 7, with 100 men and 75 cadets. The Father Matthew Society No. 1 bore a banner on which was inscribed the happy intimation, "All's right—Dad's sober." The variety of dress and the brilliancy of the uniforms, combining red, blue, green and white, with the richly-mounted banners, gave piquancy to the scene as it was observed at the City Hall, where the procession passed in review before the Mayor and a number of the Aldermen. The Irishmen of Brooklyn have never before turned out so well, and on no former occasion has their behavior been so uniformly good.

Williamsburg Father Matthews were turned out in all their strength, but the celebration was reserved principally for the evening, when the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick dined in Washington Hall, and the Knights of St. Patrick took dinner at a saloon in Grand-street.

The Day in New-Jersey.

The Irishmen, and women, too, thronged the streets of Jersey City and Hoboken yesterday, in honor of Ireland's national day. The Irish civic societies were out in full strength, with regalias, banners, flags and bands of music, and the parade was the finest they have ever before had in Hudson County. The line was formed on Pavonia-avenue, and from thence they marched through various streets in Jersey City. Passing in review before the Mayor and Common Council, they proceeded to Hoboken, through the principal streets of which they paraded, and returned by Prospect-street, Jersey City, to Pavonia-avenue, where they were reviewed by the Grand Marshal and aids, and then dismissed. The order of march was as follows: A posse of police, two clergymen in carriage, a number of soldiers, the Benevolent Hibernian Society with band, followed by a society of young lads, dressed in green; Father Mathew T. A. B. Society, with youthful members dressed in green and band, and the Hoboken Benevolent Society.

In Paterson there was no parade, but the commemoration of Ireland's patron saint was observed by the singing of "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning" on the chimes in St. John's Church and the holding of services at 5:30 A. M. Another service was held at 7 o'clock, and solemn High Mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock, all the services being attended by crowded congregations. At the 8 o'clock service a forcible sermon was preached by Father McNULTY, in which he urged all who were so ready to praise St. Patrick to imitate the example set 1,600 years ago by that great and good man.

Observances Elsewhere.

BALTIMORE, Md., Wednesday, March 17.

A snow-storm, which continued until 10 o'clock, ushered in St. Patrick's Day. The day is cloudy and disagreeable. The Ninth Regiment M. N. G., Irish and Catholic benevolent societies of several parishes are now parading the streets with banners and music.

ST. LOUIS, Wednesday, March 17.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated by our Irish citizens in fine style. A large number of Irish societies are parading the streets with banners and music. They will stop at St. Patrick's Church, join in the service of High Mass, and then proceed to the Annunciation Church, where the panegyric of the saint will be preached, after which the procession will visit Archbishop KENDRICK at his residence. In the evening the Knights of St. Patrick will give a grand banquet at the Mercantile Library Hall.

BOSTON, Wednesday, March 17.

The several Irish societies are out in full force to-day in honor of St. Patrick. The weather is delightful.

The procession of Irish societies and citizens to-day was escorted by the Ninth Regiment, and included nine bands of music, the whole numbering about 4,000 men. It was one of the most imposing demonstrations ever witnessed here on St. Patrick's Day.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Wednesday, March 17.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated here by the Irish citizens in a most becoming manner. The different Irish societies paraded the streets in the morning with banners and music. Services at the cathedral took place at noon, and a dramatic entertainment for the benefit of orphans this evening.

CHICAGO, Wednesday, March 17.

Our Irish citizens very generally took part in the commemoration of St. Patrick's day. At 10 o'clock the procession was formed, which extended nearly a mile in length.

NEWARK, N. J., Wednesday, March 17.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated to-day by a procession of Irish socities in full regalia, and special services in the Catholic churches.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Wednesday, March 17.

The anniversary of St. Patrick was celebrated here to-day by a parade of the St. Peter's Total Abstinance Benevolent Society, and an address at St. Peter's Church in the evening. Large crowds were on the streets during the parade.

NORFOLK, Va., Wednesday, March 17.

The joint society of St. Patrick's Benevolent Association, of this city and Portsmouth, met at St. Mary's Hall to-day and passed a series of resolutions favoring the formation of a National Irish Benevolent Society favoring economy and Irish emigration.

ATLANTA, Ga., Wednesday, March 17.

The Hibernian Benevolent Society celebrated St. Patrick's Day with a procession. At 12 o'clock they assembled in Representative Hall, where Judge COCHRANE delivered an oration. Governor BULLOCK presided over the meeting.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 17.

The anniversary of Ireland's patron saint today was celebrated by religious services at St. Patrick's Church, which was so crowded that many persons were unable to effect an entrance. In the evening there was a lecture on Ireland's saints and heroes. The former custom of various Hibernian associations to unite in the procession and participate in the festivities has been discontinued. The day was cloudy.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Wednesday, March 17.

There was a large procession here to-day in honor of St. Patrick.

THE HORROR-SHIP.

Further Postponement of the Investigation—Discussion of the Subject by the Board of Emigration—Death of Captain Armstrong.

The expected continuation of an inquiry by the Commissioners of Emigration into the starvation and cruelties recently practiced upon the ship James Foster, from Liverpool, did not take place yesterday, owing to the continued illness of witnesses. It will be resumed next Wednesday at noon. Of the eighty-eight patients taken to the Ward's Island Hospital, three have died. These were HENRY BOWDELL, an Irishman; WILLIAM GUY, an Englishman, and GEORGE A. HUBB, a colored cook. Two only have left the hospital convalescent as yet. Captain ARMSTRONG, lately commanding the ship James Foster, died yesterday at his residence, in Brooklyn, from fever caught on board of his ship.

At a regular meeting of the Commissioners of Emigration, held last evening, the fever-ship case was lengthily discussed.

Mr. O'GORMAN said that a committee from the Board had been appointed to take testimony from witnesses in regard to the cruelty and deprivation of food practiced upon the passengers and crew of the James Foster, Jr., recently arrived from Liverpool. This a law of 1868 authorized the Commissioners of Emigration to do. The testimony so taken was to be filed in the office of the County Clerk for the use of any persons who might desire to proceed against the delinquents. The law had been found necessary because parties had often lost suits against shipowners on account of the witnesses scattering through the country before a trial could take place. The taking of testimony, however, by the Commissioners was coupled with no power to take action. The Committee, Mr. O'GORMAN said, had examined a number of witnesses, but was now delayed on account of the continued illness at Ward's Island of those remaining. He trusted that the wide publication the case of the James Foster was receiving in this country, and the newspaper circulation it would soon receive in England, would deter passengers from embarking in sailing ships altogether.

Mr. CASSERLY said that the carpenter and boatswain of the James Foster were under arrest at Port Richmond, Staten Island, and that he had yesterday morning sent several of the witnesses who had given testimony before the Commissioners' Committee, to give it also to District-Attorney COURTNEY, that he might place the Captain and first mate of the vessel under arrest, if he thought proper.

A letter was read from the Sanitary Superintendent of the Board of Health in regard to the James Foster, the tone of which was commented upon with considerable animadversion. An extract from it said: "I did not believe it possible that Mr. MARSHALL, or your Committee, would land the passengers from that ship without this Board's permit." Mr. CASSERLY observed that the Commissioners had no control over the landing of passengers. Their duty was to receive them when landed.

Note from Mr. Charles H. Marshall.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In your issue of to-day you state that the circumstance of the Captain and first officer of the James Foster, Jr., being left without the proper surveillance at their respective dwellings, is one which should be looked into, as the probabilities are that they would abscond, as soon as they are able so to do, and thus defeat the ends of justice, and in a paragraph published the day previous, you mildly insinuate that the parties connected with the management of the vessel, by whom I presume you mean to indicate the Captain, officers, owners and agents, should be hung.

I beg now to mention to you, for your satisfaction, that this suggestion, so far as the Captain is concerned, is entirely unnecessary, as his death occurred this morning at his residence, where he has been from the commencement, and his end has, no doubt, been hastened by the communication to him of the reports which have been so assiduously circulated in the newspapers, most of which, I have not the slightest hesitation in saying, are as cruel aspersions upon his character as they are baseless in point of fact.

No testimony worthy of the name has yet been adduced to prove that his conduct while in command of his ship, under the most trying circumstances, and during a passage of almost unprecedented severity and duration, has been other than that of a sailor and a man, and it argues badly for the honesty of the Press, and those in its employ, that he should have been included in the wholesale denunciation leveled against the vessel, and those who have had her in charge, without being permitted to say one word in his own behalf.

It is useless, however, to ask for fairness of statement, or a suspension of judgment, till the facts can be definitely arrived at, from those who are only too anxious to excite the public mind and produce a new sensation, even at the expense of truth. Thus the most extravagant reports, coming from the most unreliable sources, many of them invented expressly for the occasion, are greedily swallowed and published as facts, and no thought is taken whether gross injustice may not be done one, whose lips are, as in this case, powerless to refute the slanders directed against their possessor by false and unworthy pens.

Your obedient servant,
CHARLES H. MARSHALL.
NEW-YORK, March 17, 1869.

Arrival of Another Fever Ship.

The ship Bosworth, which arrived at this port yesterday, has lost a number of her crew by "jungle fever," one of the most malignant varieties of typhoid. She left Samarang, Java, on the 30th of November last. On the 10th of January she had to seek medical aid at Table Bay, as six of the crew had died of the disease, and of the rest, only a few were in condition to work. Three who died previous to reaching Table Bay were named JOHN CONNOLLY, ALEXANDER McDONALD, JOHN PFEIFFER, THOMAS McKENNA, JOHN WALSH and ROBERT BOYLE. The second mate JAMES BRENNEL, and a number of the sailors, WILLIAM CODD, WILLIAM FRANCIS, JOHN HOPKINS and CHARLES DOYLE, it was found necessary to leave at Table Bay. When near Bermuda the ship was caught by a severe gale, which lasted through a day and night and carried away a complete suit of sails.

The vessel has been placed in quarantine, and the sick have been transferred to the Hospital Ship.

The Monnell Murder at Bergen City.

The inquest on the body of WILLIAM H. MONNELL, the young man who was shot at the Glendale House, at Bergen City, on Friday night last, was commenced before Coroner LANG at Newark yesterday. Mrs. SUSAN DREW, with whom deceased boarded, related the occurrence as she received it from MONNELL, when he was first brought to her house, and which is substantially the same as previously given. CALEB DE CAMP, who was with deceased in the fracas, testified that when they first went into the Glendale House, JULIUS BACHMEYER and MONNELL clinched and had a tussle; witness separated them, and BACHMEYER went behind the bar to get them drinks; MONNELL and he then had some words, when the latter threw a pitcher at MONNELL; they had a clinch, and MONNELL was thrown; he got up and went out, when BACHMEYER (Senior) followed and shot him; witness went back into the bar-room, and the old man, after talking with his son, said: "I will go out and finish him;" JULIUS said, "I ought to go out and finish him;" all this time MONNELL was lying on the stoop.

CRIME AND REMORSE.

A Singular Case of Theft—Arrest of the Guilty Parties.

Captain THORNE, of the Fourth Precinct, has detained at the Oak-street Station-house one THOMAS WILSON, and MARIA WILSON, his wife, who were arrested on Tuesday last by Detectives CORBETT and MULLIN upon a charge of stealing $2,000. The arrest was made only upon vague rumors, and the charge of larceny now only rests upon the confession of the female prisoner.

Her story, as told to Captain THORNE, is that about the first of last September she accosted an unknown man whom she met in Chatham-street, near Roosevelt, early in the evening, and after much persuasion induced him to accompany her to a house of assignation which she indefinitely locates "in Prescott or William-street." While he was in her company in this house she managed to steal his pocket-book, containing some papers and $2,000. She left the house with her paramour of an hour and they parted at the door, he leaving her without knowing that he had been robbed, or at least without making any complaint. She did not then know the name or residence of her temporary lover, nor has she ever since heard of him. Up to the time of the robbery the man WILSON had only been her lover, but finding the woman in possession of so large an amount of money he at once married her and the pair went to live at the Hotel de Nord in the Bowery, where, however, they only remained one week and then left the City and resided for two months in some town in New-Jersey, which is not named. They had taken the precaution to burn all the papers, and the money they invested partly in furniture, two gold watches, and other articles of jewelry, and loaned $1,000 to WILSON's brother on bond and mortgage, and $250 on a due bill to the same person. After a time the couple tired of their rural home, and returned to the City and took apartments in Madison-street, which they furnished in good style. The woman, after the robbery, abandoned the life of shame she had previously led, and in Madison-street her life was outwardly reputable, until some days ago, when she was driven into indulgence in drink, and during her maudlin moments let fall some hints of the crime which she had committed, which reached CORBETT and MULLIN and led to her arrest.

Upon being taken to the Station-house, she fully confessed her crime, as we have related, and manifested the most extreme contrition. She said that she has been for weeks disturbed by a fear that the man she robbed committed suicide upon discovering his loss, and if she could only be assured that he was alive she would be reconciled to any fate which might befall her. Her fear, the Police consider, is not altogether baseless, for no complaint of any such robbery as she confesses has even been made to the authorities and the Police experience is that men come from all places but the grave to make known their despoilments by women of ill fame.

Captain THORNE believes the woman's story and has confirmation of it in the jewelry, bond and mortgage and due bill which he found in her possession, and which he now has at the Station-house to await a claimant. The prisoners have been temporarily committed by Justice DOWLING with the hope that the man who was robbed may be alive and will come forward to prosecute his despoilers when he is made aware of their arrest.

Self-Poisoning in New-Jersey.

A man named WM. WILDE, employed at MILLER's livery stable, in Newark, committed suicide on Tuesday afternoon in the loft of the stable, by swallowing a quantity of strychnine. Some of the men employed in the stable were attracted to the loft by WILDE's cries of distress, when he informed them that he had swallowed the poison, but assigned no reason for the act. Deceased was 50 years of age, and leaves a widow.

NELSON CURRENT, proprietor of a livery stable at Deckerstown, N. J., was found on Tuesday in his stable suffering from convulsions, and died in a few minutes. A bottle labeled "strychnine" was found by his side. Deceased had been greatly depressed in mind for several days in consequence of business embarrassments.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

New-York.

At a regular monthly meeting of the Twenty-first Assembly District Union Republican Association, held at Washington Hall, Harlem, on Tuesday evening, ERASTUS F. BROWN, President pro tem., on motion of Mr. EDWARD J. SALMON, it was unanimously resolved that the Association heartily approve President GRANT's appointment of the Hon. HAMILTON FISH as Secretary of State. On motion of Mr. SIMON F. NOYES, a resolution endorsing the appointment of the other members of President GRANT'S Cabinet was adopted.

The banquet tendered to Captain DUCHESNE and his brother officers of the Periere, by the friends of these gentlemen, occurs at 7 o'clock this evening, at DELMONICO's restaurant. We are requested to announce that until 6 o'clock this afternoon signatures may be added to subscription lists at DELMONICO's up-town and down-town establishments, at the French Consulate, and at the club-house No. 38 Clinton-place.

In our report yesterday of the proceedings of the Junta Patriotica de Cubanas, we inadvertently gave the credit of Mrs. Judge BARRETT'S earnest letter to WENDELL PHILLIPS, to Mrs. Judge BRADY, who, we understand, is not a member.

The steamers Emily B. Souder and Moneka, formerly of the Charleston line, and now lying in the Erie Basin, Brooklyn, were sold at auction yesterday by BURDETT, DENNIS & Co., of Wall-street. The bidding was brisk, the first-named steamer bringing $35,000, and the latter $30,000.

The School Officers of the Eleventh Ward, yesterday, met and awarded to WM. SCHRAMM the contract for heating apparatus for the new school building in Ninth-street, near Avenue C, for the sum of $4,114.

New arrangements have been made at the Post Office, in this City, with reference to the forwarding of mails to California, Oregon and the territories. They will in future be forwarded overland, daily, unless marked "via steamer."

From the 13th to the 16th of the present month twenty-five cargoes of sugar have arrived at this port from the West Indies, including vessels of various tonnage.

The Commissioners of Emigration report the number of emigrants arrived from 1st January to 10th March as 11,987, and since that time, 1,558, making, in all, about 900 more than during the same period last year. The balance of funds on hand, $42,530 19.

Brooklyn.

MICHAEL MORIARTY was arrested by an officer of the Forty-third Precinct, yesterday, on an old charge of highway robbery, taken before Judge TROY, of the Court of Sessions, and held for trial. Sometime ago he was taken before Justice DELMAR, who discharged him from custody.

The congregation of Grace Church (Episcopal) have called Rev. Dr. PADDOCK, of Detroit, to occupy their pulpit, and it is said that he will accept the invitation.

In the Court of Sessions yesterday, THOS. SMITH was convicted of burglary, and AUGUST DEUZER was convicted of grand larceny for stealing tea. Both were remanded for sentence.

New-Jersey.

Representatives from many of the leading railroads of the United States and a number of scientific gentlemen will meet this morning, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Morris and Essex Railroad Depot, Hoboken, to experiment with HALL's patent electric switch. A section of HALL's signals has just been erected at Hoboken, and the system is pronounced to be an infallible preventive of such accidents and disasters as may result from misplaced switches.

"The Life and Genius of JOHN G. WHITTIER, the Quaker Poet," will be the subject of a lecture this evening at the Presbyterian Church, Woodside, by CHARLES H. BRAINARD, Esq., of Boston. Mr. BRAINARD is an accomplished lecturer, and his intimate personal acquaintance with WHITTIER makes him doubly capable of interesting the admirers of that favorite poet.

Chancellor ZABRISKIE rendered a decision yesterday, sustaining the application of the Jersey City and Bergen Horse Railroad Company, denying the right of the Jersey City and Hoboken Company to run their cars over the tracks of the former.

THE LAW OF CHANGE.—The eternal law of change prevails throughout nature. "Tempora mutantur et nos mutamur cum illis," is applicable to almost all beings and things. And yet there is one created thing that undergoes no change, and that is public opinion in regard to KNOX'S Spring Hats. Season follows season, and each successive one brings the shapely articles from No. 212 Broadway.

AND OTHER DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS.

This is the original Spring Water from Vermont, which has wrought so many wonderful cures, and is advertised only to distinguish it from the many imitations that are now attempted to be palmed upon the public as being equal to the virtues of the Missisquoi. PAMPHLETS CONTAINING AN ACCOUNT OF MANY WONDERFUL CURES ATTESTED BY EMINENT PHYSICIANS AND OTHERS CAN BE HAD GRATIS, BY CALLING AT OR ADDRESSING A NOTE TO
